PFEIFERS AT HERITAGE POINTE

One of Christian music's most popular recording artists, The Pfeifers, will be featured in Warren, IN, at Heritage Pointe on Thursday, August 13, during an exciting musical event, which will begin at 2:00pm.

Since organizing over two decades ago, The Pfeifers, who make their home in Washington Court House, OH, have enjoyed much success nationally and internationally. The group has been featured on a number of the successful Bill Gaither Homecoming Tour concert dates and award winning Gaither Homecoming videos and has enjoyed much radio success with numerous popular Top 20 releases, including their most recent hits, "Father's House," "Back To My Senses," "I Will Trust Him" and "Jumpin' In." The Pfeifers' brand new recording, Carry The Banner, promises even more success for this talented group, and has already produced the group's latest Top 40 hit, "He Still Does."

This talented group is featured across the country each year in countless churches, auditoriums, fairs and camp meetings, sharing the message of the Gospel with musical excellence. The group's unique ability to combine exceptional vocal harmonies with brass instrumentation, creates musical excitement that is appealing to audiences of all ages. A Pfeifer concert is filled with musical pleasure enjoyable for the entire family, and a true musical worship experience. Evidence of this lies in group member John Pfeifer's receipt of the 2006 Fan Award for Southern Gospel Music's Favorite Instrumentalist, presented to him by The Singing News Magazine, Southern Gospel Music's leading fan and trade publication, as well as the group's Favorite Trio nomination in 2008 by the same publication.

This musical worship event featuring The Pfeifers will be one to remember. To obtain additional information regarding this exciting event, call 260-375-2201 or visit www.pfeifers.com. Make plans to join The Pfeifers at Heritage Pointe in Warren, IN, on Thursday, August 13 at 2:00pm.

MARKET REPORT

Saturday we had a very nice market day. Still no tomatoes available but we keep hoping they will appear soon. Other vegetables were sweet corn, pickles, summer squash, potatoes, green beans, and onions.

Always we have the bakery with the great pastries, the jellies and jams, popcorn and should have fresh eggs. Lions Club will return this week with tenderloins also Turners will have some cuts of pork and sausage. Rabbs will have nice cuts of beef and the hamburger patties. If anyone is in the notion of making ox tail soup she has the ox tail for that also and beef liver.

We are wanting someone who might be interested in selling fresh fruit. Interested you may come out to the market or contact Ruth Herring at 375 3329.

The vendors thank everyone who visit the market, remember to come early for the best selection. We are there from 8a.m. till about 11:30.

NOTICE FOR ANGEL FOOD

Orders will be taken at the Church of Christ, Saturday Aug 8th 9-11a.m. also on Thursday Aug. 13th 3-7 p.m. and Saturday Aug 15th 9-11a.m..

GOOD NEWS!

Angel Food Ministries Headquarters has informed all host sites that there is now NO LIMITATIONS on what you can order, in other words, you don't have to order the main menus to get the SPECIALS. Anything on the list below, including the specials, can be ordered in any amounts without the former "you have to buy a main menu to get the specials below". THIS IS GOOD NEWS for those who have wanted to order the SPECIALS but didn't want the Standard Menu Box, Senior Convenience Meals Boxes or Allergen-Free Box. So, look over the list for August and get your orders in for anything you want,

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

THANK YOU to everyone who came out to help with the workday at the Salamonie School woods last Saturday! We were able to get a lot accomplished, including cleaning up around the pond, clearing the trails and putting down some new stone and mulch. It will be a great place for the teachers to take the students this year for some fun, hands on learning activities. Those helping with the workday were Rick Reed, Salamonie Principal, Brad Ludlow, Salamonie Assistant Principal, Bridget Swaidner, Kristin & Samantha Amor, Shane Wright, Alisa Drayer, Scott, Gina & Grant Canady, Phil Feltner, Mike & Monica Spahr, Cole Hale, Brock & Alexa Spahr, Mabelle Suchcicki, Brandon & Kristine Glasgow, Micky Herr, Shane, Cassandra, Austin & Devon Davis, Robert & Robby Bolinger and Matt & Jane Trickle. Special Thanks go out to the Town of Warren for the use of their equipment, DeWeese's for donating cold water for the workers, Bolinger's for the use of their Bobcat, Shane Wright Construction for the use of his tractor, Amor Excavating for delivering stone and REMC for delivering wood chips.

THANK YOU

I would like to give a big THANK YOU to members of the Woodlawn Cemetery Board and to the mowing crew who takes care of the cemetery. It would be no small job to provide the care that is given to the cemetery but I think they are doing a wonderful job, often going above and beyond what is required of them.

Velma Souers

DEAR WARREN WEEKLY

I would like to address the "Woodlawn Cemetery's People" to say "Thank You" on putting back a shepherd hook and an American Flag on my husband's grave site. It was very thoughtful.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Warren Town Council met at 4 p.m. Monday, July 27 in Assembly Hall. President Bill Cartwright conducted the meeting.

Bob and LuEllyn Pond, representing Knight-Bergman Civic Center, were in attendance. They requested a letter of support from Council for a grant application to replace the heating system at the Center, the electrical system upgrade and to install handicap approved restrooms. Council agreed to supply the letter.

A citizen in attendance commended Council and employees for supplying support for the Festival, for quick response in a power outage and the general appearance of the downtown area. They also commended Council for mosquito spraying.

The 2010 budget was given initial approval by the State and will be advertised.

Zoning Ordinance 2009-2 for control of adult businesses was introduced at the meeting.

Curt Day announced plans for major paving project next spring. This will include Salamonie Heights, portions of Grover Street, as well as other others that may be in need of work.

Marshal Spitler reported that the bullet proof vests have been received. They were purchased through the Department of Justice Grant Program.

HERMITAGE RETREAT

You might ask what a hermit is. A hermit is one who retires from society to live in solitude. The word hermit is derived from the Greek "eremites" which means living in the desert. Many of the early hermits lived in the desert. The hermit is known in many cultures to adopt a solitary life for personal reasons or from a need to do prayer and penance.

August 7-9, you can have your chance to be a hermit for the weekend at John XXII Retreat Center. The retreat begins on Friday evening at 6:30pm with registration and an introduction by Sr. Nancy Raboin, PHJC. Sr. Nancy will give a history of the hermitage movement and suggestions of how to use the quiet and solitude. She will also demonstrate how to use Icons for prayer.

Each participant will have their own room with quiet, but will also be free to enjoy the beauty of the back yard and the remainder of the retreat center. Simple meals will be served as well as desert bread that Sr. Nancy will be baking.

Opportunities during the weekend will also be available for individual one-to-one spiritual direction, to share your personal journey. Sr. Nancy and Sr. Joetta Huelsmann, PHJC, director of the Center, will both be available for this.

There will be a closing service of prayer on Sunday and the time will end with lunch. Sunday liturgy will also be available for those who wish.

For those new to spiritual direction it refers to the active conversation between two people that centers on the director's relationship with God. Together both people listen for the Spirit's direction in one's life. The purpose of spiritual direction is three-fold: For growth in self-knowledge and prayer, for discernment-recognizing the movement of God in a person's life, and for invitation-to respond to God's movement in one's life.

The cost of the weekend is $125.00. There is an option for a shorter time, Fri. night to Sat. dinner which is $95.00. For optional spiritual direction it is $25.00. To register for this hermitage experience you can call (765)348-4008 or e-mail john23rd@sbcglobal.net.

ELECTRIC CAMPSITES

Edward R. Roush Lake now has 25 campsites that offer electrical hookups at Kil-So-Quah State Recreation Area available for reservation.

"It is great for the DNR and Roush Lake to be able to provide a service for our campers that they have been asking for," said Jeff Reed, property manager.

Roush Lake partnered with Duke Energy, which provided the transformers and upgrades at no cost.

Roush Lake also offers several miles of hiking and mountain bike trails, shelter houses, boat rentals, swimming, picnic areas, archery and shooting ranges, fishing, and wildlife viewing.

Camping rates for the electric sites are: Sunday through Wednesday, $9.53 plus tax; Thursday through Saturday, $12.39 plus tax; and holidays, $15.25 plus tax.

For questions about camping at Roush Lake, call (260) 468-2165. To make campground or shelter reservations, call 1-866-622-6746 or go online at www.CAMP.IN.gov.

HOOSIER HERITAGE DAY

Learn about Hoosier history at the inaugural Hoosier Heritage Day at the Indiana State Fair, Aug. 13, 9 a.m. – 9 p.m., on State Fair Boulevard and in the Pioneer Village.

Fair goers can meet re-enactors portraying Madame C.J. Walker, President Abraham Lincoln, and Raggedy Anne. After talking with the re-enactors, attendees can play a history trivia game, try on an Indiana Supreme Court Judge's robe, or put together a State House puzzle.

Sponsored by 12 State agencies and 3 statewide not-for-profits, the day marks the first time an entire day at the State Fair has been devoted to Indiana history.

For a lineup of the day's events, go to www.IN.gov/dnr/historic and click on the Hoosier Heritage Day logo.

MILITARY FRIENDLY

Harrison College (formerly Indiana Business College) is excited to announce that they are the recipient of a Lilly Foundation grant that will better assist service members in their quest for higher education. The $15,000 grant will allow Harrison College to become a military-friendly college by initiating programs that offer support for service members and their families.

Some of the features of these new programs include: support groups for service members and their families, assistance with financial aid for service members and their families, and grant credit for documented military experience based on recommendations of the American Council on Education. Harrison College will develop a task force to monitor how Harrison is assisting service members to ensure all their needs are being met. If Harrison finds that it is not providing all the necessary tools for success, then the task force will step in to help Harrison make the changes needed.

Ramone Cooper, Manager of Corporate and Military Partnerships at Harrison College, who is also a retired United States Air Force Master Sergeant, states, "As a college graduate and retired military service member myself, I know I could have benefited from the extra support a program like this could have provided, and I am truly excited to be able to bring this program to Harrison College and my fellow service members."

The idea for the grant came out of a study done by the Military Family Research Institute at Purdue University which states that not enough higher education institutions are providing the special support and assistance needed for service members. The study also found that some service members are having trouble integrating into the educational environment, which acknowledges the need for a special program.

Harrison College is a nationally accredited institution dedicated to excellence in higher learning. With a concentration on career-focused education, the college grants Associate and Bachelor Degrees, as well as Certificates and Diplomas. Harrison operates campuses throughout Indiana and Ohio. Students may also earn degrees by taking classes 100% online, or through a combination of online and classroom learning. Students may choose degrees from the Schools of Business, Criminal Justice, Health Sciences, Information Technology, and Veterinary Technology as well as the college's culinary division, The Chef's Academy. Harrison College was founded in 1902.

DNR NATURALLY

Get natural with the DNR at this year's State Fair, which opens Friday in Indianapolis. Visitors to the Natural Resources Building and area, can have fun viewing and learning about everything from snakes to fish to butterflies.

All DNR activities at the fair are free after paying gate admission to the fair.

An old DNR favorite, the snake show "Snakes Alive!" returns. Interpretive naturalists from state properties all over Indiana will talk about snakes Hoosiers might find in their own backyards. The show takes place every day at 10 a.m. at the 150-seat DNR amphitheater, adjacent to the Natural Resources Building.

The ever-popular 312,000-gallon Fishin' Pond returns for a fourth year, packed with fish ready to be caught, then released. It's open every day from 4 to 7 p.m., located next to the Natural Resources Building. Youth fishing is also available from 9 a.m. to noon every day except Aug. 7-8 and 17-21. Parents should register their children between the ages of 5 and 17 when they enter the fair to reserve a time to fish later in the day.

Other Indiana fish, including a paddlefish and lake sturgeon, will be available for viewing both inside and outside the Natural Resources Building throughout the fair.

Butterfly Corner is situated beside the Natural Resources Building, ready to give viewers a close-up look at some of Indiana's native butterflies. Visitors can also get tips for attracting butterflies to their backyard.

Fairgoers can learn about every division of the DNR inside the Natural Resources Building, where they can pick up free copies of the latest Recreation, Fishing or Hunting guides and other DNR publications, subscribe to Outdoor Indiana magazine, ask questions of DNR experts, or just take an air-conditioning break.

Aug. 13 is the inaugural Hoosier Heritage Day at the fair, from 9 a.m. - 9 p.m., on State Fair Boulevard and in the Pioneer Village. Sponsored by 12 State agencies and three statewide not-for-profits, the event is the first time an entire day at the State Fair has been devoted to Indiana history. For a lineup of the day's events, go to www.IN.gov/dnr/historic and click on the Hoosier Heritage Day logo.

These fun and educational opportunities are just a few of those available from the DNR this year at the fair, which runs through Aug. 23. Gate admission is $8 for adults; free for children age 5 and younger.

For a complete schedule of DNR activities at the State Fair, plus links to the DNR's State Fair blog and photos, see dnr.IN.gov/statefair. The DNR also will be posting on its Facebook page at Facebook.com/Indnr, naturally.

TRIATHLON

The United Way of Huntington County, as part of its fund-raising campaign for 2009, for the second year in a row will hold its LIVE UNITED 2009 Team Mini-Triathlon, on Sunday, Oct. 4. The triathlon, sponsored by Parkview Huntington Hospital, will take place on the hospital's campus. Registration will start at noon, with opening ceremonies at 1 p.m.

The event is a three-team-member triathlon, with one member from each team participating in one of the three events. The events include a bike ride of 15 miles, a run of 3.1 miles and a swim of 600 yards.

The biking and running events will start from Parkview Huntington Hospital, and the swim event will take place in the lap pool at Parkview Huntington Family YMCA, located next to the hospital. Check-in for all events will be in the registration tents on the hospital's grounds.

The triathlon is both non-competitive and competitive, and medallions will be presented to members of the top three competitive teams. All registrants will receive a long-sleeve t-shirt and refreshments will be provided.

One registration form per team is required, and forms are available by visiting www.parkview.com. Point to "Hospitals," click on "Parkview Huntington Hospital," click on "General Info" then click on "2009 Team Mini-Triathlon." The pre-registration fee is $75 per team if paid before Sept. 21, and $100 per team if paid after Sept. 21 and up to race day.

Completed entry forms and fees, payable to United Way, should be mailed to LIVE UNITED Triathlon, 356 West Park Drive, P.O. Box 347, Huntington, IN 46750. For additional information, call the United Way of Huntington County at (260) 356-6160.

FIELD DAY

Purdue Extension will be hosting an annual field day for farmers and livestock producers on Aug. 20 at the Northeast-Purdue Agricultural Center (NEPAC) in Columbia City, Ind.

Registration will start at 8:00 a.m.

"The field day is a good way for farmers to learn about what they can do to improve their own business," said Ed Farris, educator, Purdue Extension Huntington County.

The field day will include four sessions on management issues. Christian Krupke, Purdue entomologist, will discuss scouting corn and soybeans for pests such as western bean cutworms and soybean aphids as well as strategies for managing these pests. Shaun Casteel, Purdue agronomist, will address late season stresses with soybeans. He also will be highlighting updates from the World Soybean Conference, held in China this year.

Fred Whitford, Coordinator of Purdue Pesticide Programs, will discuss safely using tie-downs when transporting pesticides and farm products.

Keith Johnson, Purdue agronomist, will discuss how to manage hay crops and double crop forage options. He has planted test plots for participants to view during his talk.

An update of the farm bill will be presented by U.S. Rep. Mark Souder and the strategic plan for agriculture in Indiana will be briefly outlined by Anne Hazlett, director of the Indiana State Department of Agriculture.

"Having both Hazlett and Souder present is a good opportunity for farmers to hear about what is current within the state and in Washington, D.C.," Farris said.

Continuing Education Credits for the Private Applicator Recertification Program will be available for a $10 fee. The program has also been approved for commercial applicator and crop advisor credits.

Sponsors will be at the field day to represent their companies and agriculture organizations.

Registration is free but pre-registration is requested by Aug. 17. Those registered by the 17th will be guaranteed a free lunch. Visit <http://www.ces.purdue.edu/anr/documents/2009/NEPACAug09Flyer.pdf> for registration, session and sponsor information, or contact Farris at 260-358-4826, emfarris@purdue.edu.

BLOOD DRIVES

Summer is a time for fun. But as summer winds down and as communities prepare for the back-to-school season, the American Red Cross encourages student donors to give blood and invite family and friends to donate blood at upcoming blood drives at their elementary, high schools or colleges.

"Students are the backbone of the blood supply," said Sharyn Whitman, CEO for the Indiana-Ohio Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross. "While we love summer just like everyone else, we always look forward to fall and to working with our next generation of blood donors."

The blood supply can be affected by the lull in student donations as elementary, high schools or colleges observe summer breaks. Nearly 20 percent of the community blood supply was donated by students through scheduled drives at schools, colleges and universities last year. In addition, the American Red Cross has developed a community service project known as Pint Size Heroes to introduce children to the importance of donating blood. The program encourages students to volunteer at a blood drive at their elementary school or community center and invite parents, guardians and other adults to give blood on their behalf.

Red Cross officials say younger generations of blood donors will become the new face of blood donation as the current donor population ages. In fact, blood donations made through the Red Cross by teenagers are increasing while blood donations by older individuals are decreasing.

"If your school doesn't have a Red Cross blood drive set up for the school year, please contact your local Red Cross to find out how you can get one on the books," said Whitman. "Pint Size Heroes blood drives are also a great way for younger students to get involved."

The Red Cross is using social media sites to build awareness and reach out to youth and other donors. For details, visit facebook.com and search for American Red Cross blood donors.

Give blood or platelets now through Sept. 7 and enter to win a weekly regional drawing for a $500 Meijer gift card!

Area blood drives in August include:

Friday, Aug. 7, from 11:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Heritage Pointe, located at 801 Huntington Ave. in Warren.

Sunday, Aug. 23, from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Life Center Church in the library, located at 428 S. Oak St. in Bluffton. All presenting donors will receive a t-shirt.

IS INSURANCE NECESSARY?

If you have ever wondered if it is worth paying those insurance premiums month after month, just ask someone diagnosed with a terminal illness or someone whose home has been ravaged by a natural disaster... the answer is a resounding yes.

While you hope that you will never need insurance, it protects you from personal loss in the event of a catastrophe. When shopping for insurance, be sure you match your benefits with the premiums you are asked to pay. The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas has some suggestions to help you in your search for the insurance policy to cover your needs.

Auto Insurance - State law requires that all motor vehicles have liability insurance to cover property damage or injury to other people. If you have a loan on your vehicle, your lender also requires that you have collision insurance. Premiums are generally lower if you select a higher deductible, meaning you pay more out-of-pocket before the insurance policy kicks in.

Homeowner's Insurance - This insurance covers your home and possessions. Your mortgage lender will require this type of insurance until you pay off your home loan. As with auto insurance, you can select a higher deductible to save money on your premiums. Standard home-owner's insurance policies protect the owner from loss in fires and theft. Flood insurance generally requires a special rider on your homeowner's policy.

If you rent, you need renter's insurance on your personal items. The landlord's policy will cover only damage to the building itself, not your personal property. You may also want to consider liability insurance in the event that someone is injured while in your rental property. You would be responsible, not your landlord. With the appropriate level of auto insurance, your insurance agent probably offers a reasonably priced umbrella policy that covers all types of liability.

Medical Insurance - While medical insurance will pay for part of your hospital stays, doctors and prescriptions, there is also a deductible for which you are financially responsible. A serious illness without insurance can cause significant debt if you do not have health insurance or do not have adequate savings to pay out-of-pocket costs. Although they may cost extra, you should consider whether you will come out ahead by purchasing dental and optical insurance.

Those who have insurance through their employers should also consider participating in a flexible spending account (FSA) if offered. This option allows you to save pre-tax dollars to pay for those expenses not covered by insurance.

If you do not have access to such a plan at your work, you might consider setting up a health savings account (HSA) at a bank or other financial institution to pay for health-related expenses. An FSA requires you to spend all of the money in your account by March 15 of the following year. With a HSA, you can roll it over from year to year.

Disability Insurance - Statistics indicate a high risk of becoming disabled before the age of 65.

This type of insurance helps pay your living expenses while you are out of work for an extended period of time and is offered for both long-term and short-term disability.

Life Insurance - This insurance will pay benefits to your designated beneficiary in the event of your death.

Long-Term Care Insurance - This relatively new insurance policy will pay for health-related items such as nursing home care, assisted living or in-home care. These policies are somewhat expensive. When shopping for this type of insurance, be sure to take your time and research several policies to decide which policy is right for you. Generally it is not cost-effective to purchase this policy until age 50, but each person's circumstances and needs may differ.

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners has a website called "Insure U", with several sources of information regarding all types of insurance.

Begin your research on the best type of policy for you by going to www.insureuonline.org. While insurance premiums can be high, the cost of not having insurance can be catastrophic.

TOOTH TIPS

By: Dr. Kevin J DeaKyne DDS, PC

5 FOODS THAT FIX BAD BREATH

What to do when your breath has been turned toxic by smelly foods? Since brushing constantly is impossible, try countering offending foods with what's likely to be the handiest: Other foods.

1. Lemons - suck on a lemon wedge or nibble on the rind, or even lemon flavored hard candies - they work just as well.
2. Parsley and other green garnishes - chewing on a sprig after eating garlic laden dishes will release the parsley's pleasant breath freshening oils. Garnishes of fresh basil and rosemary work well too.
3. Apples and other crisp fresh foods (firm pears, carrots and jicama) - they are high in fiber, all that chewing ups saliva production and the two together act like a scrubbing rinse for your mouth.
4. Mint sprigs or cinnamon sticks - either of these deliciously potent flavors will squelch the sulphurous scent of onion or garlic. Plus an essential oil in cinnamon kills a nasty type of oral bacteria. Cinnamon or mint gums are just as effective, pick a gum with Xylitol - it will freshen breath and help reduce cavities.
5. Berries and Yogurt - eat for prevention - consuming a half cup of plain sugar free yogurt twice a day can lower mother levels of hydrogen sulfide. Berries, melons and other fruits high in vitamin C also deter stinky mouth bacteria. Start and end the day with a fruit cup topped with a big dollop of yogurt and you might never have to worry about bad breath again.
