HOLMES IS NEW PIONEER

The Samuel Jones Pioneer Award is sponsored by the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce and is given annually to a member of the Warren community in recognition of someone who has unselfishly given of time, talents, resources, labor, skills and counsel for the overall betterment of the greater Warren Community.

The new Pioneer Award winner is chosen by the previous award recipients.

It is hoped that this Award will represent a small token of appreciation from Warren area citizens to someone who has freely devoted their time and talents to the service of our community.

The 2009 recipient is Mary Emma Holmes. She was born in Warren and has lived in Warren all of her life. She loves hot fudge sundaes, even though they are not on her diet. FOLLOW THE YELLOW BRICK ROAD

"Wizard of Oz" Opens at the Pulse Opera House

Is a family vacation out of the question this summer? Why not travel to the magical land of Oz when the Pulse Opera House presents The Wizard of Oz in July. We even have fun travel companions for you. Dorothy, the Scarecrow, the Tinman, and the Cowardly Lion would be glad to have you follow the yellow brick road with them. (Oh...and Toto, too!) You may have to watch out for the Wicked Witch and some Flying Monkeys, but it's a trip that will warm your heart and leave you thinking that "there's no place like home."

This is the most ambitious production the Pulse has ever undertaken. Featuring a large cast of local and area adults and children, the musical has many special effects and some surprises. All of the songs from the beloved MGM movie are there, as well as "The Jitterbug" which was cut from the movie.

Are you ready to follow us over the rainbow? The production runs July 10, 11, 16, 17, 18, 23, 24 and 25. Tickets for the show are $12 for general admission and $5 for children 12 and under. Tickets may be purchased at the door. The box office opens at 7:00 p.m. on show nights and is located in the theatre lobby. Doors to the theatre open at 7:30 p.m. All shows start at 8:00 p.m.

Reservations can be made online at www.pulseoperahouse.org or by calling (260) 375-7017. The Pulse Opera House is located at 127 1/2 Wayne Street in Warren, Indiana.

FIRST COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

This year the past Samuel Jones winners thought it would be nice to start a community service award by recognizing someone or an organization in the Town of Warren with a certificate of appreciation for the job they have done in Warren, IN.

This first award we would like to present to the SAM organization, formerly the Jaycee's, for the work they have done for the Festival.

Twenty-eight years ago the Salamonie Summer Festival showcased it's first ever "Family Feud Game". Sponsored that year by the Salamonie Active Men (SAM), it was just the beginning of dozens of events that SAM would later become involved with. The

CONCERT AT HERITAGE POINTE

Heritage Point brings you Christian Davis and Roy Webb in concert July 16, 2009 @ 2:00 PM.

Christian Davis is not only a multi-talented man of God, but the hand of God is evidently working in his life. God placed a unique smooth bass vocal on him that usually takes many years of seasoning. Christian began singing professionally in 1998, as bass vocalist with the Old Time Gospel Hour Quartet. He has since sung with other quartets such as the Old Friends Quartet (while George Younce was ill), Christian Brothers Quartet, and Mercy's Mark. He currently reformed The Christian Brothers for specific dates and venues while pursuing his solo ministry.

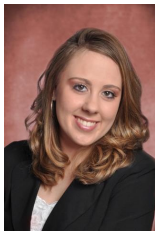

Roy Webb: The joy this multitalented instrumentalist possesses in his vocation is obvious, as it shines brightly each time he sits down behind the piano to play. Night after night, Webb amazes listeners with his exceptional musical talent. His transparent personality wins the hearts of audiences, who embrace his quick-wit and dry sense of humor. Audiences leave with a smile on their face and a song in their heart. More importantly, however, I want the audience to recognize that God has blessed me with a talent, and I want to give that talent back to Him each night I play."

POULTRY TESTING

Wells County Members are reminded of the health requirements for poultry which includes proof (certificate) that the bird originated from a National Poultry Improvement Program (NPIP) approved flock or a negative blood test for pullorum-typhoid within 90 days of the fair. Members should plan to bring their birds to the blood testing, Saturday, July 11th, 9:30-12:30 pm at the 4-H Park Cookhouse Patio. To arrange a special time, contact Jeff Hook, 334-5586.

Only birds not from a NPIP flock need to be tested. Waterfowl, turkeys and quail do not need to be tested.

Local veterinarians can also do the blood testing.

Salmonella pullorum and gallinarum (pullorum and typhoid) are bacterial diseases that can produce heavy losses in chickens, turkeys and sometimes other poultry. Losses are greatest in very young birds, but can be seen at almost any age.

Survivors of these infections remain carriers for life and can become sources of infections for other birds. As a result, chicks are hatched with the infection and frequently die.

These diseases can be prevented by purchasing stock from hatcheries and breeder sources listed as participants of the National Poultry Improvement Program (NPIP).

For more information about the Poultry Health Requirements, check your 4-H Rule Book or the Wells County Office of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service, 260-824-6412.

JUDGING SET

Many 4-H members are busy preparing exhibits for some of the pre-fair judging events which will be held prior to the annual Wells County 4-H Fair, July 18-23.

4-H Sewing, Consumer Clothing, and Fashion Revue will be held Thursday, July 9th at the Wells County Community Center at the 4-H Park in Bluffton. Check in begins at 5:30 PM and judging begins at 6 PM.

4-H Foods judging will be held Monday, July 13th at the Wells County Community Center at the 4-H Park in Bluffton. Check in begins at 5:30 PM and judging starts at 6 PM.

Members are reminded that they need to bring their "Project Completion Certificate" with them to judging. The certificate is obtained when the leader checks the member's 4-H manual and record on or before July 1st.

All judging events are open to the public and are free.

For more information, contact a 4-H volunteer or the Wells County Office of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service, 260-824-6412.

ONLINE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Huntington University soon will add three degree programs to its online offerings. Adult students may pursue an associate degree in organizational management or bachelor's degrees in accounting or business management through the university's online delivery system.

The Higher Learning Commission extended the university's accreditation to the new programs on June 25.

The first fully online program offered will be the Bachelor of Science in Business Management with a major in not-for-profit leadership. Although the official launch of this online program will be in January 2010, some online courses leading to this degree are being offered this fall.

"Online education is an exciting venture for Huntington University," said Dr. G. Blair Dowden, president. "I look forward to the further development of our online programs. With careful planning and state-of-the-art technology, we can dissolve geographic barriers and make Huntington University's high-quality, Christ-centered programs available to greater numbers of students."

Huntington already offers a hybrid master's degree program in youth ministry leadership that has both online and in-class components. The university's online offerings also include some master's degree courses in other programs, including counseling, education and ministry.

Adult students interested in online courses or programs should call Susan Frantz, assistant director of marketing for the EXCEL Adult Degree Programs, at (260) 359-4198 or sfrantz@huntington.edu.

WHAT TO DO

It's that time of year when deer give birth to their young in Indiana. With the spread of suburban areas into natural habitats, many people find fawns that appear to be abandoned. Thinking the animals are orphaned, hurt, abandoned or lost, well-meaning individuals sometimes "rescue" them.

Doing so is not only unnecessary but also bad for the animal. It also is illegal if you

Seven Huntington County 4-H members recently participated in State 4-H Round Up, held at Purdue University, June 22-24. Alyssa Auginbaugh – Clear Creek Twp, Brandon Elliott – Lancaster Twp, Robert Sliger, III – Jefferson Twp, Lauren Daas – Huntington Twp, Alisa Ford – Rock Creek Twp, Tess Widener – Salamonie Twp and Caleb Smart – Jackson Twp participated in a variety of activities on the Purdue University campus, including a community service project for the Ronald McDonald House, career exploration sessions throughout the Purdue campus, afternoon recreation at the Recreational Sports Center and an evening at the Ross-Ade football stadium pavilion. The nearly 600 delegates from around the state of Indiana also were entertained with musical performances from the state 4-H Band and Chorus and award winning acts of the 4-H Share the Fun Talent Contest. Ashley Ambriole, Jackson Twp 4-H member, was one of the nearly 20 4-H talent acts performing on the Loeb Theater Stage for the Round-Up delegates. Ashley presented her 1st place winning, high energy jump rope routine from the Area XI Share the Fun contest, held earlier this spring.

The Huntington County 4-H Leaders Organization provided the funds to pay the registration fees for these youth to attend this statewide 4-H educational workshop.

don't have the proper permit.

With more and more suburban areas being built close to natural areas, young animals are increasingly born near humans and discovered without an adult animal nearby, so a few reminders are especially pertinent.

"The apparent lack of an adult does not mean a young animal is alone," said Linnea Petercheff, operations staff specialist for the DNR Division of Fish and Wildlife. "Adults often leave their young alone while they forage for food, but rarely do they abandon their young."

The best way to make sure a fawn is truly orphaned is to wait and check it periodically.

Before taking any action, remember the following:

~ If the fawn is not injured, the mother is likely nearby.

~ Leave the fawn alone and its mother will probably come and get it. Deer can take better care of their young than a human can.

~ Human scent on the fawn will not prevent the mother from taking care of it.

~ If you do not see any deer nearby, have someone keep a lookout nearby that can watch the fawn without being seen by the mother. In most cases, the mother will come back and get the fawn after you leave the area.

Remember that wild animals are just that – wild animals – and should be left in the wild. White-tailed deer are protected by law and cannot be kept as a pet. Wild animal rehabilitation permits are issued to qualified individuals who take in sick, injured, or orphaned wild animals with the intent of releasing them back into the wild.

If you encounter an injured or truly abandoned deer, do one of the following:

~ Call the DNR/USDA Wildlife Information Hotline, 1-800-893-4116, during business hours.

~ Check the DNR/USDA-Wildlife Services Web site, wildlifehotline.info.

~ Call the DNR Division of Fish and Wildlife in Indianapolis, (317) 232-4080.

~ Call your DNR law enforcement district headquarters or regional headquarters; contact information is at: IN.gov/dnr/lawenfor/2755.htm

~ Call a licensed veterinarian for immediate assistance with a sick or severely injured wild animal.

After she had a job, she decided it was time to learn to drive a car. She was always sending people in the community notes and thank you's for things that they had done.

Some of things she did for this community was to help the farmers and businesses get their 100 year certificates from the State Hoosier Homestead and Centennial Business Awards Programs. She helped organize the Warren Historical Society that ran for several years during the 1980s and 90s. She wrote several historical articles for the Warren Paper call, "A Day or Two Ago." She has also conducted and taped interviews of businessmen and local people talking about their life growing up in Warren.

Mary Emma has spent many hours working in the Salamonie Valley Museum. When it was decided there was a need for an air-conditioner in the museum, she took on the job of designing a Warren and Jefferson High School Alumni graduating book, having copies made and selling them to raise enough money to pay for the air-conditioner and having it installed.

She is a member of the Solid Rock Church here in Warren and the United Methodist Women. She has served in many capacities, especially involved with the annual Bazaar, newsletter, choir and history committee. She has compiled the history of Warren and surrounding areas for the vertical file at the Warren Library and compiled and indexed the Historic Warren articles printed in the Warren Tribune into a notebook for the Library. That notebook and your "A Day or Two Ago" columns are filled with a wealth of knowledge for people interested in Warren history.

She has also been an Associate member of the Sigma Phi Gamma for several years, often joining the regular members along with her mother, Mary Jane, who was very active in Sigma Phi Gamma. She has been a very dedicated member when it comes to her class reunions and keeping the class in contact with each other. Also, with her mother's class at Warren High School.

Thank you, Mary Emma, for all the little things you do to make this 'Small Town with a Big Heart' a better place to live in and a better community.

Congratulations Mary Emma on a well deserved award.

MORE SAM AWARD

following year they hosted their first Children's Activities that are famously known today by everyone as the SAM Olympics. Over the next several years they continued to sponsor, Canoe Races, Bed Races and even Out House Races. To slow down the pace a little they begin holding Horse Pulls and Tractor Pulls. Along with those events they hosted some Street Dances and Golf Scrambles and Car Bashes and even brought ELVIS to Warren in 1989.

For more than a dozen years they braved the danger and set off our huge Fireworks display every 4th of July. In 1999 SAM began sponsoring the festivals Car Cruise-In, 2009 will be their 19th consecutive year holding this event.

Who has not savored the favor of the ever so famous SAM BURGER? You know you've made the big time when you have a sandwich named after you. The Salamonie Summer Festival would not be complete without SAMBURGERS and they are still proudly served every year.

All the while sponsoring events, this group is known by all involved with the Salamonie Summer Festival as the world's greatest 'Clean-up Crew'. Every year during the festival they get up early in the morning and sweep the streets and pick-up trash. Then get up and do it all over again the next day. Never complaining but always asking if there is anything else that needs done. We always know throughout the entire festival that these guys are ready to jump in and help do whatever needs done.

Every year the festival relies on these guys to set-up tables, chairs, bleachers, picnic tables and stages. After years of hauling in and setting up and tearing down a stage that was older than all the guys put together, they decided a new stage was desperately needed. So they took it upon themselves to hold fund raisers and purchased a new one and made great use out of the old one.

Trying to put into words how much the Festival depends on these guys is almost impossible. Their dedication to our community and the pride that they show for this great little town through their service sets them apart and speaks highly of their characters. To put it in simple terms, 'what a great group of guys'.
