Buddy Trip

On Thursday, April 21st Mrs. Morrison's 4th grade Class, along with their Community Buddies, took a Walking Study Trip. They walked from Salamonie School to MarkleBank where they took a tour, had a lesson on saving money, and received a miniature savings vault - each with their own combination!

They continued their trip by walking to East of Chicago where they toured and ate Pizza with their buddies. On our walk back, we stopped by the Warren Church of Christ where Nathan Radcliff, Youth Minister, gave us a tour.

A special thank you to Jennifer Smith, Jane Vickrey, and MarkleBank for your support and all the time you have given to be a 4th Grade Buddy.

GETTING THROUGH TOUGH TIMES

by Bryan Golden

We all have tough times we have to get through. There are many situations you have no control over. However, what you do in response is completely up to you. First of all, don't get caught up with stress, worry, and fear. They cause anxiety, agitation, and perhaps feelings of depression.

Living with events you can't change is part of life. Attempting to change things you have no control over causes frustration. Once you recognize something is beyond your control, you can concentrate on making the best of it.

Taking action is more productive than worrying. Although there are many situations you can't control, you can control your reaction to them. This is the essence of coping. By directing your energy at finding survival strategies, rather than obsessing over your predicament, your attitude will improve. With action and a proactive attitude, you have a lot of leverage to improve your circumstances.

Although predicaments you have no control over can be a hardship, you do have the ability to get through tough times. You've endured before and you will again. Flexibility and creativity are the keys to surviving.

Tough times don't last but tough people do. Problems and people are in constant conflict. The way you triumph over problems is to outlast them. Adversity comes and goes. Problems are solved, resolved or fade away. Tough people keep going. They may slip, trip or fall but they get up, recover their balance and keep moving forward.

Tough times can have a grinding, draining and demoralizing effect on a person. But allowing a tough problem to beat you into despair puts you in danger of becoming overwhelmed with little hope of recovery. Everyone needs encouragement and motivation.

Often, it's when you're hanging on by your fingernails, and feel that you can't last much longer, that you're about to turn the corner and overcome your problems. It's exactly at the point where you want to give up, and throw in the towel, that you must dig deeper into your inner storehouse of resolve and march on.

Understanding that tough times don't last gives you the stamina to outlast them. There has never been a problem that could stand up to the power of imagination and determination. Mental toughness empowers you to find solutions. Tough times force you to develop your strengths and formulate a strategy of thinking, enabling you to find the way around, over, under or through a problem.

Problems are only temporary aberrations on your path of life. Tough times are like a brick wall. When examined up close, both are made up of small pieces that are removable. If you try and break through a brick wall by repeatedly throwing your body against it, you will only become sore and frustrated.

MY TOWN and Yours

BY DENNIS STROUD

A fire, on an October night in 1956, charred beyond use, a bridge, spanning the railroad a mile east of town and started local, state and railroad officials investigating into the possibility of arson.

The fire, believe to have started between 8:45 p.m. and 9:00 p.m., raged out of control in minutes and as firemen from Warren and Liberty Center arrived at the scene, the bridge was in complete flames. Damages were set at $15,000.

Sheriff Harry K Walter, who arrived at the scene shortly after the blaze had started, said "indications were the fire was no accident." The sheriff said the time the blaze started was "pretty well fixed" by a man and a woman who drove over the bridge about 8:45 and came back over about 20 minutes later to find the entire structure in flames.

A rail road official said the bridge was railroad property. He said they would rebuild but pointed out that the bridge was on a secondary road and they would have to yield priority to major projects.

The bridge was built, in 1915, with native timber and replaced later with creosote treated beams. After the fire was started and reached a high kindling point the creosote treated beams burnt vigorously. And as you know, they have been yielding to major projects forever. The bridge has never been replaced.

Present Freddie Couch, Fritz Boxell, Martha Buzzard, Rita Hiser, Marian Hoffman, Karen Karchner, Virginia Langdon, Crystal Lee, Lilly Nutter, Mary Palmer and Joyce Shepherd.

Scott reported on the electrical update being done. Things seem to be going on schedule and should be completed soon.

Sharon and Luella reported on the upcoming Fundraiser Luncheon May 1. The menu will be Steak, or Chicken, Green Beans, Mash Potatoes, Salads and Pie. There will be a charge of $8.00.

Preservation fund report was given by Sharon and Luella. Sharon suggests that we think about moving some of this balance to the Edward Jones account maybe next month.

New Business:

A check for $200.00 was received from the Baseball Leagues. Lots of work has been done to the diamond since last summer, new wall, new lights, new sand, better drainage and new electrical update.

After this season we will have a better understanding of what it costs to use the diamond. We then would like to have a meeting with their board.

There was discussion about KBC joining the Chamber. A motion that we join was made by Janice and seconded by Karen and motion carried. Bonnie, Ron and Sharon will be representing the center at the meetings.

There was discussion about a large tomato stain on the carpet in the south hall way. It was suggested that we get carpet cleaned in the hall and auditorium. J R Flooring will be called, we would like to have this done before Alumni in May. Janice will get this set up.

A notice regarding the annual meeting will be in the papers for the next three weeks. Anyone interested in being on the KBC Board is to send a letter of interest to KBC, Box 574 before May 12th. Annual meeting will be June 20th.

Next meeting will be May 16, 2011@ 5:30 p.m. @ the KBC office.

However, if you climb to the top of the wall with a hammer and a chisel, you can readily begin removing one brick at a time. This is the same approach that will allow you to tackle tough times. Each challenge is a collection of bricks that can be removed one at a time.

You can cause problems to crumble by disassembling them into small pieces. Once your brick wall of problems has been reduced into a pile of rubble, it no longer seems imposing or overwhelming.

When viewed in this way, every challenge will appear conquerable. You realize that you can overcome any problem. As you begin to proactively disperse adversity, your self-confidence, self-esteem, and mental toughness will flourish. Rather than being apprehensive of tough times, you will become as worried about them as you would be of a housefly. They may be annoying but they are certainly no match for you and your mind.

You have the ability to be constant and consistent. You have the force of willpower and determination. Tough times will come and go but you have the power to endure and overcome. You are a tough person who will outlast tough times.
