Thought for the Week: Don't forget to Celebrate Dad this weekend! Happy Father's Day!

FATHERS: WORTHLESS OR PRICELESS?

My son was born on Father's Day. He was born while my dad was dying from cancer. I named my son Chandler which means "candle maker" translated Chandler was a "light" for our family in a very dark time. My dad's generation wasn't much for talking and it was uncomfortable for me as well. When my son was born I took him to my dad's house and told my dad that I was making my son the namesake to him, Ira Leon Ballinger. I told my dad that I wanted my son to have his character traits (Hard Working, Provider, Wise, Persevering, Honoring, Honesty...etc.).

I always knew that my dad loved me but I don't remember him ever telling me that he did until that day. It was freeing and honoring. In addition, he referred to me as a man. I was 30+ years old and by society's standards I had been a "man" for well over a decade. However, for my dad to say I was a man was humbling.

As a child my dad was the smartest person alive and could "beat up" any other dad as far as playground arguments go. As a teenager my dad dressed odd and didn't understand life. When I was about 22 dad became very wise and gave good counsel. It wasn't dad who changed, it was me. Now that dad has passed his wit, wisdom, and humor continues to influence all of us.

Tonya Buzzard

THE UPTOWN GARDENER by Ruth Herring

Sorry I missed last week - dumb computer problems, Hopefully I am back on track.

This week was a busy week for many with graduations going and the party times. Even I was among the those helping to celebrate. I had three granddaughters all graduating this year, Annette from Florida with degree in accounting, Kendra in few weeks with certificate in food management and Sarah from Dekalb High School. Needless to say this is a very proud grandma.

We were glad Annette, Eric, Ryan were able to make a short trip up from Florida to join the celebration. Of course the big attraction there was getting to see the great grandson, it was hard to believe how much he has grown since last seen them at Thanksgiving.

At graduation ceremonies I was reflecting on how much has changed since my graduation from Andrews 62 years ago. Hundreds in Sarah's class to the lucky 13 in mine. Their high school band provided music, at mine Baileys orchestra played. How many of you remember them? They were a family group who owned Baileys Funeral Home in Huntington and several of the township schools had a standing order for them. I think they had commencement exercises scheduled so as to have them playing for each one who chose to have them. They were a very talented group. Daughter Mary Bailey could really make the xylophone produce music.

With all the rains we have had past days the rhubarb should be very nice this year and showing up at the markets. I have this recipe for easy for dessert.

Rhubarb Dump Cake

3-4 cups diced rhubarb, 1 cup sugar, 1- 3 ounce package strawberry Jello, 1 yellow cake mix, 1 cup water, 1/4 cup melted butter. Heat oven to 350. In oiled pan place rhubarb, sprinkle sugar over rhubarb then Jello, last cake mix, pour water and oil that is mixed together over all, lastly drizzle melted butter do not stir. Bake 45 minutes.

Enjoy and enjoy summer.

A meeting for employees is scheduled for June 12 at 10:00 am with the Town Benefit Insurance Agent to discuss the transition to a new provider which will occur on July 1st.

Jeff Souder reported for the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce asking that the Town use its tanks to water the flowers on the bridge but that businesses would be taking care of the planters in the downtown area. Council concurred. The Peddler Cart which is going to be used in the Salamonie Summer Festival Parade still has room for additional riders and peddlers. The Cart is being used by the Chamber, Historic Warren, and Council. A grant through Historic Warren has been submitted with monies, if awarded, designated for initial work on the Chamber Park area next to the Post Office on First Street. Work would include sidewalk replacement and enhancement, tree planting and additional work as funds allow. Bricks taken from sidewalks during the downtown project will be used in some of the projects. Chamber had a tree service inspect the trees in the area and the report showed that the Pine Tree needed to be removed and other trees trimmed. The Phyllis Pond family has also donated funds for the establishment of a memorial area in the Park. The longtime State Legislator from the Fort Wayne area was a Warren native and had always maintained ties with Warren activities and projects. That memorial will also be part of the design.

Morrison reported that the fixed asset study has been completed and a draft copy is being reviewed before it is electronically downloaded and management training is done. The report meets State Requirements for Asset Management as it places values on every facet including streets and in ground lines and pipes as well as land, equipment and buildings and covers any item over $5000. It also has a built in depreciation factor as required. Training is scheduled for June 20th. Total value disclosed in the report is just over $23,192,000.

Council, by consensus, approved the use of Commonwealth Engineering to develop specs for improvements and paving of most of the alleys. After review of that report and estimated cost, a decision will need to be made as to the scope of the project.

Reviewed was the submitted quote from RPM Machinery in the amount of $49,980.00, after trade in, for replacement of the 1991 backhoe. The purchase had been discussed previously and the cost met pricing detailed in the Comprehensive Plan. Stivers moved, Glessner seconded approval of the purchase from Electric, Water, Sewer, and Motor Vehicle Highway departments. The motion was approved unanimously. The Street Sweeper is the next piece of equipment scheduled for replacement so the Utility Manager is to begin the search for a used sweeper.

The monthly Fire Department activity report was reviewed.

The monthly Police Department activity report was reviewed. Marshal Spittler reported that several nuisance citations for grass, weeds had been issued and most had been taken care of.

Trospier requested that the swing set at Tower Park be upgraded as it has only three swings left of the six it can hold. The Utility Manager will be informed.

The next scheduled meeting of Town Council is July 14th at 5:30 pm.

VB COUNCIL

The Van Buren Town Council met on Wednesday evening, June 4, in the Council Room at Town Hall. At 7 p.m. president Marvin Surber called the meeting to order. Those in attendance repeated the Pledge to the American Flag.

The town insurance representative was in attendance and talked to Council about liability insurance renewal. The cost is lower.

Two local citizens were in attendance.

There was a discussion about dogs running loose around town. A copy of the Van Buren Animal Ordinance will be posted at the Post Office and the Clerk-Treasurer's office. The Ordinance explains the responsibilities of the dog owners.

There was also a discussion about the unclean properties around town.

Council was presented with an updates water and sewer rate situation. It appears that a rate increase is necessary, over a two year period. There will be Public Hearings about the matter and local residents are urged to attend.

It is noted that this is the first time in eight years for a water rate increase and the first time in six years for sewage.

Utility department Superintendent Rob Reeder submitted a letter asking to step down as Superintendent. He also asked if he could go back to wastewater plant management operator. Council agreed to the change and appointed Donnie Plummer as Superintendent.

Council adopted an amendment to the Salary Ordinance to raises for employees.

Officer Pat Collins presented the Police report. He introduced Travis Hunt as the new reserve deputy.

Donnie Plummer gave the utility report and told what he would like to accomplish.

The weekend of June 13 and 14 will be town rummage sales.

The next Council meeting will be June 18.

CAMP RILEY

Camp Riley empowers children with physical disabilities by providing enriching, life-changing experiences in a traditional camping environment tailored to their individual needs. For 59 years, campers have shattered perceived limitations, met new friends and reached higher achievements, allowing them to return home with an increased sense of independence and confidence.

Camp Riley sessions offer camaraderie, thrills, and new perspectives through swimming, hiking, horseback riding, vertical climbing on a 40-foot tower, canoeing, art projects and other activities. This year, Rachel Hultz of Warren headed to Camp Riley.

Camp Riley takes place at Bradford Woods, Indiana University's outdoor recreation center located 20 miles southwest of Indianapolis (near Martinsville, Ind.). Eligible children ages 8 to 18 can attend one of five Camp Riley sessions offered over a six-week span. The facility is universally accessible and the staff-to-camper ratio never exceeds 1-to-3. Camp Riley is an extension of Riley Hospital for Children, integrating medical and nursing directors, pharmacists and staff to the Camp Riley program. Twenty-four hour medical care is available by Riley Hospital staff.

Since 1955, Camp Riley has been a "home away from home" to more than 13,000 children. In 2014, 220 campers will attend Camp Riley, representing 60 Indiana counties and 10 states.

Thanks to Riley Children's Foundation and donors, the cost to attend Camp Riley is $400 for a one-week session and $800 for a two-week session. Beyond that, a sliding scale is available depending on household income. Every child can attend Camp Riley regardless of their ability to pay. No child is turned away.

Donors interested in providing the Camp Riley experience to Indiana children with the gift of a campership should contact Riley Children's Foundation. To find out how you can send a child to next summer's camp, visit RileyKids.org/camp or call 317.634.4474 (toll-free 877.867.4539).

2014 Camp Riley Theme: "Around the World" - Explore new adventures from around the globe without leaving the woods! Embrace new cultures through recreational pursuits, artistic expression, musical creations, or simply discover the world of nature around you at Bradford Woods. Join us and experience the excitement this summer at Camp Riley 2014.

Camp Riley offers five levels of camp programming: Riley 2 - June 15-20, 2014 (Ages 8-18) - This one-week session is for campers who benefit from a 1-to-2 staff-to-camper ratio. Be prepared to have the time of your life!

Riley 1 - June 29-July 4, 2014 (Ages 8-18) - This session is for campers who benefit from a 1-to-1 staff-to-camper ratio. Be prepared for an exhilarating adventure like none other.

URBAN DEER CONFLICTS

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources has introduced an innovative program to help communities alleviate their urban deer conflicts.

The Urban Deer Hunting Access Program was designed to assist communities experiencing problems with overabundant deer to manage those deer through hunting. Communities will be eligible to apply for funding to open public land for access by licensed deer hunters to resolve documented conflicts.

"Hunting is a highly favored form of management for deer by hunters and many non-hunters alike," said DNR deer biologist Chad Stewart. "It is incredibly safe, cost-effective, and efficient. However, it is difficult for communities to take that leap into allowing public hunting because of the perception and opposition of hunting by small and vocal groups of people."

Funding for the project is provided by the Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration Program by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Communities or public entities can enter into a contract with the DNR for up to three years with a maximum of $15,000 available per year.

Communities must submit their application by July 31, with a general outline of how the funds will be used. Applications will be scored and ranked, with the highest ranking communities eligible to be awarded the funds.

"Hopefully by providing a financial incentive to open up or expand hunting in their community, we can show that hunting is a logical option to solving deer problems," Stewart said. "And hopefully it will lead to a resolution of conflicts and the start of a long term management program."

There is hope. God has promised us that he is our perfect father; the one our earthly father could never be. The fatherless no longer have to be crippled in their condition. They can change their circumstances through finding their worth in Christ. Psalm 68:5: "A father to the fatherless, a defender of widows, is God in his holy dwelling.

Fathers are not worthless, rather they are priceless! The role a father holds is irreplaceable.
