Thought for the Week: Congratulations to all Area Graduates - High School & College - on a Job Well Done!

VOLUNTEERS

There is a great need for 12 volunteers for the annual 3 on 3 contest during the Salomonie Summer Festival. 3 on 3 will be held on Saturday, June 30th from 8:30 a.m. til the tournament is finished.

See Janet Dilts at At the Corner if you would like to help out. Even if it's just for a little while and not all day.

WINDOW DECORATING

Let's decorate Downtown Warren for the Festival! On behalf of the Salomonie Summer Festival Committee, we would like to invite Warren merchants & residents to decorate or display collections in their windows with a patriotic or historic theme during the 2012 SSF June 29- July 1. Local clubs, teams, families, or individuals who would be interested in putting a display together or decorating a downtown window are welcomed and encouraged to contact Ann Brauchla at 375-3792 to sign up. Ann will connect you with a downtown business who has volunteered their window for use. What better way to show your creativity and patriotic spirit than displaying it for all to see during this year's festival?

GED PROGRAM

Beginning this fall, a new GED program will provide adults the opportunity to advance their literacy skills, attain a General Education Diploma and provide entrance qualifications for college, military, and career certificates. Classroom instruction is available the first year followed by online instruction the 2nd and 3rd years. Warren area locations are Heritage Pointe and the Warren Library, as well as other county sites including the Huntington Jail, the Andrews Library, and the Huntington City Township Library.

The classroom in Warren will provide adults with 6 hours of instruction per week throughout the first year. When it becomes available, the Plato computer programs will offer adults online instruction each day of the year based on the site location's hours. Also, adults will be offered the opportunity to work from home on this program provided computer access is available.

Residents from Huntington County as well as those living in Wells and Grant counties are eligible to participate in any of the programs mentioned herein. Although funding is being provided by various community organizations in Huntington County through grants and donations, more help is needed to insure that this important project is successful now and into the future. If you would like to volunteer your time and/or offer financial assistance for the Warren area GED program, please call Jeff Souder at 260-375-6199, or Dave Swanson at 260-375-4146.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Knight Bergman Center will be holding it's Annual Meeting June 18, 2012 at 6:30 in the KBC office. Election of officers will be held at the time. Public is invited to attend this meeting.

WAMA REPORT

Every Wednesday this summer starting June 4 WAMA (Warren Area Ministerial Assoc) will be hosting a free lunch at Knight Bergman Civic Center from 11:30am-1pm. This lunch is open to anyone who would like a free hot dog and good conversation. Please run the above ad for the whole summer. You can change the wording to whatever sounds best, this is just a suggestion.

Also, WAMA would like to let the community know that we have raised $2052 to go towards the hard hit tornado communities in southern Indiana. We are still in need of $500 to reach our goal. We will be presenting this money during a trip to the area on June 20.

SSF ART SHOW

Its time once again for the annual Salomonie Summer Festival Art Show. We are looking for all kinds of art work to be displayed.

The categories for the adults are all types of paintings, sculpture or 3D art, all kinds of quilting, woodworking, wearable art, needlework, ceramics, all types of drawings, photography, and a miscellaneous category.

We are also looking for young artists, 15 years of age and younger. This show will be judged by the people, with awards going to the best of show in each category. The young artist category will be broken down into four age groups, up to preschool, K-3rd grade, 4th -6th grade, 7th grade-15 years of age and any type of work in the categories listed above will be honored in the young artist category. Awards will be given to all young artist who enter.

All entries in the art show must be pre-registered and entry forms must be turned in by June 20th. No entries will be accepted if they are not registered. Entry forms may be picked up at the Town Hall in downtown Warren or by calling Treva at 260-375-2436. There is also an entry form in this issue of the Warren Weekly.

FARMERS MARKET

Will have some local Maple syrup added to our vendors. They are also looking for new vendors? Stop out and see what the fuss is all about. It's in the big tent on the East end of town by Daugherty's Pond.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

NOTHING BUT THE FACTS

by V Neil Wyrick

Luther Burbank discovered in the kingdom of greenery that every weed is a potential flower; the very qualities which make it a weed could make it a beautiful thing to behold. And that is what we are looking for in our president elect this fall.

We know the extremes that can be found. One man becomes a Hitler. The other becomes a Kagawa. And what contribution can the average man or woman in America make to up the odds for our leadership the next four years.

We can use a little of the wisdom we demand of our leaders. We can think before we speak and not vote because we like or dislike a candidate but rather because we have done our homework and know what they actually stand for.

Both parties major in malarkey and too often minor in straight talk. We all know that and need to be forewarned.

And the perfect president with perfect solutions working with a perfect congress isn't going to happen. So in our search for flowers, because we are all human, I guess we'll have to settle for some weeds here and there.

Research has shown the whole process is prone to error because people react favorably for a host of reasons that have nothing to do with what a candidate is saying. The shape of his jaw line. Whether they think his smile or his frown is sincere. Hundred of emotional and psychological clues.

Would you be more properly prepared rather than unprepared to vote? Check over the following areas and ask yourself how much you know about how each candidate feels about the following subjects; taxes and budget, foreign policy, crime and punishment, gun control, environment and energy, religion and public life, civil liberties and public security, immigration, health care, education, social security, Medicare and trade and economics. The more you know the more informed will be your vote. Otherwise, you probably shouldn't vote at all.

And allow both candidates their "oops" moments. The longer anyone speaks in public and answers questions afterwards the chance of foot-in-mouth disease increases.

The scary thing is the number of good men who never have run for president and never will because they know people want a perfect president and there is no such creature.

What do we need in a president, now and a decade from now? A decent man or woman who really believes what they say.

And you the voter. We need you to be a decent well informed voter who, whether you lean to the far right or far left or teeter in between, when you walk out of that voting booth in November; as much as possible, let your decision have been made from nothing but the facts.

NOMINEES NEEDED

The Huntington County Extension Board is looking for nominees for the County "Friend of Extension" Award. This award is a great way to recognize an individual who has been active in Extension programs (agriculture, health and human sciences, youth or community development) through their participation, leadership or cooperation with Extension activities. A person can nominate him/herself or someone else and include a written narrative of the person nominated (maximum of 500 words). The county Friend of Extension Award is patterned after the state award of the same name. Local nominations must be submitted no later than June 15.

Additional information and an application can be secured at the Huntington County Purdue Extension Office at 260-358-4826 or via email at kdhinsha@purdue.edu.

DEAN'S LIST

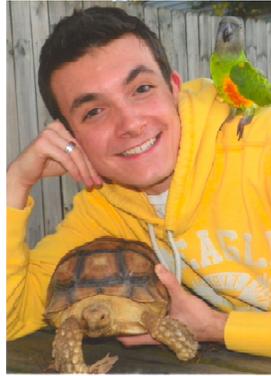

Kourtney Danae Brubaker of Warren was named to the Dean's list for the Spring Semester of the 2011-2012 academic year at Anderson University.

To be named to the dean's list, a student must earn a semester grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a scale of 4.0.

SENIOR SCRAMBLE

Results from the Thursday, May 24th Senior Scramble at Dogwood Glen. First Place (31): Jim Denman, Mel Ogden, Randy Potter, Jack Wilson. Second Place (33): Don Carroll, Doug Davis, Dick Hinton, Pete Watkins. Closest to the Pin #3 John Jones, #6 Clyde Smith, Long Drive #8 Fred Schweikhardt and Pat Shuttleworth.

LILLY SCHOLAR

Levi Smith has been selected as recipient of a four-year, full-tuition scholarship as the Huntington County Community Foundation 2012 Lilly Endowment Community Scholar.

Smith receives full tuition to Manchester College, as well as an annual $900 stipend for required books and equipment. He is undecided on his undergraduate major, but ultimately plans on earning a degree in veterinary medicine from Purdue University, working as a Zoological Veterinarian and in the area of exotic companion medicine.

A senior at Huntington North High School, Levi's parents are Candy Smith and Herman Smith III. Levi has been a four-year member of Varsity Singers, a member of Spanish Club, National Honor Society, a freshman mentor, Spanish tutor, and the founder and leader of the Animal Cruelty Awareness Club. His community service includes the Riverside Veterinary Clinic in Warren, Huntington County Animal Control and Special Olympics. In addition, he wrapped up his high school thespian career with the male lead in the Huntington North spring musical.

"The Lilly Scholarship opens up the long road to becoming an exotic veterinarian for me," Levi stated. "It normally takes four to eight years to become a small animal vet, which is what most veterinarians are, but in order to become a zoological or exotic veterinarian, you have to do a few years of internships and residencies after the eight years of pre-vet studies and vet school. Having the first four years of my education covered financially definitely increases my chances of finishing this long and rigorous journey."

A total of 23 Huntington County high-school seniors applied this year and after reviewing their applications the HCCF Scholarship Committee, comprised of community volunteers, invited eight candidates to be interviewed. Afterward, committee members were faced with the extremely difficult choice of which three students to select for a second interview. After these interviews and making their final decision, the scholarship committee submitted the name of their nominee and one alternate to Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) for approval of their selection as a Lilly scholarship recipient.

ICI is a nonprofit corporation that represents 31 regionally-accredited degree-granting, nonprofit, private colleges and universities in Indiana.

The scholarships are the result of a statewide Lilly Endowment initiative to help Hoosier students reach higher levels of education. Indiana ranks among the lowest states in the percentage of residents over the age of 25 with a bachelor's degree. There were 142 Lilly scholarships awarded statewide this year.

OPALESCENT GLASS

People age 50 or older are invited to the Salamonie Interpretive Center to learn about the historic Kokomo Opalescent Glass Company on June 4.

The program begins with lunch at 12:30 p.m. The meat dish will be provided by Upper Wabash Interpretive Services (UWIS). Seniors should bring a dish to pass, their own table service and $1 donation to help defray the cost of the provided meat dish.

To help the planners determine the correct amount of meat to request, those interested should register by calling (260) 468-2127, or visiting the interpretive center, 3691 S. New Holland Road, Andrews 46702.

Cindy Locke, retail manager of The Op Shop, Retail Division of Kokomo Opalescent Glass, will talk about the company's beginnings and explain how the glass is made.

The interpretive center and gift shop's hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. This barrier-free building features exhibits, floor-to-ceiling windows in the wildlife viewing area, and staff to answer questions.

The center is in Lost Bridge West Recreation Area, Highway 105, in western Huntington County. There is no fee to enter the property at this time.

FREE FISHING WEEKEND IS JUNE 2-3

For Hoosiers who have never cast a fishing line or haven't cast a line in a while, Free Fishing Weekend, June 2-3, is a great opportunity.

That's because Indiana's adult residents do not need a fishing license or a trout/salmon stamp to fish Indiana waters during Free Fishing Weekend.

Clint Kowalik, DNR Go FishIN coordinator, suggested several Free Fishing Weekend options for adults and families.

"Go alone to a quiet, secret spot, explore new waters with your family, or take a kid to a local fishing derby or city park pond," Kowalik said.

To celebrate Free Fishing Weekend, recreation areas across the state are planning fun fishing derbies, casting clinics, fish-cleaning demonstrations and cooking classes.

Properties hosting activities for Free Fishing Weekend are:

- Brookville Lake, Brookville, (765) 458-5565

TAYLOR

Florence M. Taylor, 88, of Warren, IN, died Thursday, May 24, 2012, at 5:10 p.m. at Heritage Pointe, in Warren.

Mrs. Taylor graduated from Van Buren High School in 1942 and was a homemaker. She was a member of the Oak Chapel United Methodist Church, the Oak Chapel Ladies Circle and the Wells and Blackford Home Economics Club.

She was born April 1, 1924, in Beaver Township, Pulaski County, to Bertha Widner Campbell. She married Ralph R. Taylor on Sept. 12, 1952. Her husband survives.

Additional survivors include two sons, Bill (Dianna) Banter, of Warren, and Robey Taylor, of St. Louis, MO; a daughter, Jan (Dr. George) Babcock, of Bluffton; a sister, Vera Campbell, of Warren; a brother, Dudley Campbell, of Huntington; six grandchildren, Will (Kristi) Banter, of Warren; Brent Banter, of Austin, TX; Tim (Julie) Babcock, of Bluffton; Lisa (Bryan) Dailey, of New York; Meg Taylor, of Washington, DC; and Brandon Taylor, of St. Louis, MO; and seven great-grandsons.

A service was held in the Applegate Chapel on Wednesday, May 30, 2012, at 10:30 a.m., with calling one hour prior to the service. Rev. Al Soutz and Rev. Ginny Soutz officiated. Interment was at Estates of Serenity, Marion.

Preferred memorials are gifts to the Oak Chapel United Methodist Church Building Fund.

Ferguson & Glancy Funeral Home, Van Buren, was in charge of arrangements.

GAIER

Cary A. Gaier, 88, of Warren, IN, died Saturday, May 26, 2012, at 2:23 p.m. at St. Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis, IN.

Mr. Gaier was a resident of Warren for eight years, and was formerly of Montpelier. He was a 1942 Montpelier High School graduate and a dairy farmer. He also drove a school bus for Southern Wells Schools for 28 years, then was a custodian for 17 years. Mr. Gaier was also a 4-H leader in Nottingham Township and the Wells County 4-H Club. He was a part of the Tractor & Safety Maintenance for 25 years.

Mr. Gaier was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Montpelier. He volunteered for eight years in the activities department at Heritage Pointe. He belonged to the Good Sam's Camping Club.

He was born Feb. 29, 1924, in Blackford County to Elmer and Mary Rhoton Gaier. He married Opal M. Martin on Jan. 27, 1945 in Hartford City, and she survives.

Additional survivors include two sons, Francis (Shirley) Gaier, of rural Bluffton, and William (Nancy) Gaier, of Fort Wayne; five grandchildren; two stepgrandchildren; four great-grandchildren and two stepgreat-grandchildren.

Services were held at Glancy-H. Brown & Son Funeral Home, 203 N. Matilda St. Warren, on Wednesday, May 30, 2012, at 1 p.m. at the funeral home, with Rev. John Bellante officiating. Interment will follow in the IOOF Cemetery in Montpelier.

Preferred memorials are to the Heritage Pointe Activities Department and Cancer Services for Huntington County.

RICHARDSON

Cindy L. Richardson, 57, of rural Warren, IN, died Tuesday, May 22, 2012, at her home.

Mrs. Richardson was employed in production at Keebler Manufacturing and had also worked at Kitco Manufacturing and the Bluffton McDonald's restaurant. She was a 1973 graduate of Southern Wells High School.

She was born Feb. 9, 1955, in Bluffton to Robert E. and Frances M. Macklin Mossburg.

She is survived by a son, Travis Richardson, of Bluffton; a daughter, Heather (Christian) Martinez, of Bluffton; two brothers, Rodney E. (Deb) Mossburg and John L. (Christine) Mossburg, both of Liberty Center; and a granddaughter, Kaylee Martinez.

Services were held at Thoma/Rich, Chaney & Lemler Funeral Home, 308 W. Washington St., Bluffton. Burial will be at a later date at the Mossburg Cemetery.

Preferred memorials are gifts to an educational fund for Kaylee Martinez.

Ramseyer.

Additional survivors include a daughter, Cheryl Gaskill of Fort Wayne; a son, Joseph Gaskill of Columbus; four grandchildren, Johanna Basinski-Gaskill, Wesley Basinski-Gaskill, Ashtain Gaskill, and Kyle Gaskill; a great-grandchild, Benjamin Pedigo; three sisters, Patricia (Rex) Holloway of Poneto, Mary Alice Osborn of Shelburn, and Connie Snyder of Indianapolis; and three brothers, Harold (Leslie) Gaskill of Bluffton, Bobby (Donna) Miller of Dunkirk, and Fred Miller of Pennville.

He is also survived by best friends Steve Cotton and Josh Dunifan.

He is also survived by his friend and former wife Rosemary (Bill) Elliott, who resides in Bluffton.

He is also survived by his son Joseph's former wife, Pamela Gaskill, of Columbus.

A memorial service for family and friends will be held at a later time. Preferred memorials are to the family.

Adults who decide they want to buy a license for the rest of the year can do so anytime at IndianaOutdoor.IN.gov. The standard resident license costs $17. Children age 17 and younger do not need a fishing license in Indiana at any time.

All other fishing regulations are still in effect during Free Fishing Weekend.

People who need reasonable modifications for effective participation in Free Fishing Weekend events at DNR properties should contact the property at least 72 hours before the event or call the DNR ADA Coordinator at (317) 232-4145.

BLACK BASS RULES

Rule changes adopted earlier this year to provide increased protection for black bass in certain rivers and streams became effective on Friday, May 25.

With a few exceptions, a person catching black bass (smallmouth, largemouth and spotted bass) from a river or stream may keep only those fish that are under 12 inches or over 15 inches long. The daily bag limit for black bass is five fish singly or in aggregate, which means the catch limit may include any combination of the three bass species. No more than two can be over 15 inches.

The exceptions are:

—Rivers and streams in counties bordering the Ohio River still have a 12-inch minimum size limit, with an aggregate bag limit of five black bass. Those counties are Clark, Crawford, Dearborn, Floyd, Harrison, Jefferson, Ohio, Perry, Posey, Spencer, Switzerland, Vanderburgh and Warrick.

—The Blue River in Crawford, Harrison and Washington counties still has a 12- to 15-inch slot limit and an aggregate bag limit of five black bass, with no more than two being more than 15 inches.

—The minimum size limit on the Ohio River main stem (not bays and tributaries) remains at 12 inches for black bass, with a daily bag limit of six.

The changes are in response to public concerns regarding harvest pressure on smallmouth bass that were expressed during the Indiana Natural Resources Commission's comprehensive rule enhancement project.

The NRC Advisory Council, Indiana Sportsmen's Roundtable, fishing groups and individual anglers supported a rule change to further restrict the taking of black bass, especially smallmouth, to potentially provide a larger number of bass for anglers in the future. The protection for black bass that are 12- to 15-inches long is intended to limit harvest of these fish when they have the highest reproductive potential.

The new rule does not affect existing regulations on lakes or reservoirs (including Lake Michigan), where black bass must be at least 14 inches long to be kept. Black bass size and bag limits at specific locations such as state fish & wildlife areas, state forests, national forests and other sites outlined in Indiana Administrative Code 312 9-7-6 also remain unchanged.

FISHING DERBIES

Children ages 2 to 14 are invited to have fun, win prizes, and learn to catch and release fish during fishing derbies on June 2 at Mississinewa and Salamonie lakes, J. Edward Roush Fish & Wildlife Area and Ouabache State Park.

The derbies are hosted by Upper Wabash Interpretive Services in recognition of the statewide Free Fishing Weekend. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. with fishing from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. An awards ceremony follows.

Prizes, bait, and staffing support are being donated by Bozarth's Campground and Country Store, Peace Pipe Bait, Woody's Spillway, Riverside Sporting Goods, Indiana Conservation Officers, Bluffton Optimists, Walmart and the Friends of the Upper Wabash Interpretive Services group.

The derbies are free. Participants should register in advance for their derby of choice by calling (260) 468-2127.

"Each participating child goes home with a prize," Marvin McNew, director of UWIS, said. "There are grand prizes for the largest fish caught and prizes for each of three age categories. Each child can win only one of these large prize packages."

Children will be divided into age categories 2 to 5, 6 to 10, and 11 to 14. Prizes include fishing tackle, tackle boxes, fishing rods and reels, and many other items.

Salamonie's derby will be in the Lost Bridge West Recreation Area. Mississinewa's derby will be in the Miami Recreation Area. Roush's derby will be in the Little Turtle Area off Indiana 5.

The standard entrance fee of $5 per in-state vehicle and $7 per for out-of-state vehicle will be in effect when the gatehouse is open.

Upper Wabash Interpretive Services is at 3691 S. New Holland Road, Andrews, 46702.

TREE WORKSHOPS

Those who love trees and work with trees can take advantage of several workshops this summer offered through the DNR Division of Forestry's Community and Urban Forestry program.

The Indiana Community Tree Steward (ICTS) course will be at the Purdue Marion County Cooperative Extension Office at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. ICTS is open to anyone who has an interest in trees and urban forests. The five-week course meets on the evenings of June 21 and 28, and July 12, 19, and 25. Registration is $30 and includes a comprehensive notebook of tree references and tools.

The Forest Pest Identification Early Detector Training workshops are designed to help participants identify signs of tree pests and diseases. The day-long regional workshops will be July 9 in Evansville, July 10 in Greendale, July 16 in Valparaiso, July 18 in Merrillville and July 19 in Chesterton. Registration is $20 and includes lunch. Participants will learn how to identify signs of emerald ash borer, thousand canker disease, and Asian longhorned beetle. Each has the potential to kill millions of trees in Indiana. Speakers include Phil Marshall, state entomologist, and Annemarie Nagle, Purdue entomologist.

The Indiana Urban Forest Council will hold its summer meeting on July 18 at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in Terre Haute. This gathering for urban forestry professionals, enthusiasts and volunteers will focus on Tree Campus USA projects and new tree selection criteria that relates to climate change. Speakers include urban forest professionals from Indiana and the USDA Forest Service.

All the workshops are in partnership with DNR Entomology & Plant Pathology, Purdue

Entomology and Purdue Extension. Each is co-sponsored by the Indiana Urban Forest Council and offers continuing education credits for International Society of Arboriculture Certified Arborists.

Registration is required in advance for all of these workshops. To register, contact Carrie Tauscher, CUF Volunteer Coordinator, at (317) 591-1170 or ctauscher@dnr.in.gov.

VACATION GET-AWAY

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley
What is it about going on vacation that makes it worth all the preparation and hassle? Is it getting away from the phone? I don't think so; most of us have our personal cell phones. Is it getting to seeing new places? Maybe but many of us usually want to go back to old familiar areas. Is it the food? It could be, or is the fact that cooking is not hard in an efficient clean kitchen.

How about the people? They are usually the same ones you have at home. So what is it about being in a different place with the same people? Could it be that the surroundings do not choke you!

Hotel rooms are sparse: Two beds, a desk, one bathroom, a night table, one small closet, a little dining table and maybe a little refrigerator. Hey I am leaving the Television and video games out. Ignore them. Let's say you rent a condo at the beach. It has a small kitchen, two to three bedrooms, a living area, a balcony, a couple of bathrooms and empty closets. The same thing for a house at the lake or a cabin in the woods; they have all the conveniences of home without ALL YOUR CLUTTER!!!

Oh it's not clutter, it is your stuff, I can hear you yelling at me. Well your stuff makes you feel like you need to leave home to breathe. So what does that tell you? Your stuff is killing you. You are uneasy in your own home. Another word for uneasy is disease. Get it?? Your house has become a storage unit for your stuff, not a home.

This is why it feels so good to walk into a sparsely decorated room. The space frees you to breathe without you feeling closed in.

How do we get this vacation feeling in our cluttered homes? By evicting Clutter and Just-in-Case forever! These things have chased you away from your home. They have taken over your residence. They are squatters and it is time to take back your home and make it your sanctuary instead of a storage unit.

Start by Crisis Cleaning: we are attacking the surface clutter that is residing in our favorite hotspots. Spend 15 minutes in the Kitchen, then 15 in the living room and then 15 in the bathroom. Then you get to rest for 15 minutes. Don't skip this step! It is the most important one.

I promise those few minutes are going to make a difference if you will get up and do it, instead of whining that 15 minutes is not enough time. The clutter will be out of sight and you will start to say to yourself that this doesn't look half bad; even if the floors are dirty. Clutter is what makes your home look awful.

Oh you still don't believe me; then do an experiment. Clear off your coffee table. I mean move everything off into a box and just stand back and look at it. How do you feel? The clean and clear is contagious. Now go put away, give away or throw away everything that is in that box.

You deserve to have a home that gives you a beautiful clean feeling. You can get that vacation get-away by taking baby steps to eliminate your clutter. Set your timer and allow that beautiful clean to put a smile on your face!

GET MOVING

As the weather gets nicer, it's the perfect time to get outdoors to celebrate National Physical Fitness and Sports Month. Spend some time this month enjoying the warmer weather while sneaking in extra physical activity. Use these tips from USA.gov to make fitness more fun: Exercise doesn't have to be boring. You can play games with your family like wiffle ball, tag and capture the flag. Go to a local park or use your backyard to run around with your kids. Before you know it, you'll have met the daily guidelines of 60 minutes of movement for kids and 30 minutes for adults.

Take the President's Fitness Challenge. Start with the physical fitness test to see how you stack up against other people your age. Based on your scores you can earn awards in different categories.

Look to your state tourism office or your local department of parks and recreation to learn about active events going on in your area. You may be able to find sports teams for your children to play on or adult recreational leagues for yourself. No one wants to get hurt and have to spend time on the sidelines. But if you do end up with an injury, learn the best at-home treatments and when you should call in the professionals. You'll also find tips on how to prevent more injuries in the future.

You can find more ideas to get you and your family moving at LetsMove.gov.

PRE-EMPLOYMENT TESTS: WHAT EVERY JOB SEEKER SHOULD KNOW

(ARA) - With the economy strengthening, today's job seekers have more of an opportunity to find a job than in years past. However, that hardly means that companies are taking the decision to hire lightly. With still unprecedented numbers of applicants vying for each open position, companies are putting a greater emphasis on choosing the best of the group, and they are armed with more weapons than ever to do just that.

A heightened quest for information on prospective employees, coupled with the increased ease to administer assessments, means that job seekers are more and more likely to face some form of a pre-hire evaluation as part of the hiring process.

"Pre-employment assessments have been one way to help companies make sense of who they have in the pipeline," says Brian Penner, director of assessment and selection at Prudential Financial. "More and more companies have developed a strong appetite for measuring how people think and act - just think about Facebook to see the value in this. Pre-employment assessments provide information on difficult-to-measure human behaviors that give employers the ability to easily compare one candidate with another in an objective way."

Penner notes that it is important for job seekers to remain confident if asked to take an assessment. "The good news is that assessments cost money, which should signal to you that the company thinks you're important enough to invest in." Additionally, Penner shares his top seven tips for job seekers if they are asked to take an assessment as part of their application process:

- * Most assessments today are online and allow you to take the assessment wherever your computer has connectivity to the Internet. This means convenience, but it also means that it is critical that you plan ahead so you can work in a distraction-free area.
- * Get sleep the night before. Being well-rested and alert are the building blocks for success.
- * Be yourself. It is easier to be yourself than someone else. Don't guess who they want you to be. Remember, you've been invited to take the assessment because of your skills and experiences. Those who try to be someone different during the assessment don't fare as well and come across with contradictory results.

- * Stay relaxed, and as contrary as it may seem, try to have fun with the assessment. There are usually a number of factors that go into the hiring decision and assessments are just one piece of the puzzle.

- * Some tests are timed. In these cases, work quickly and accurately. Instructions will tell you if you're penalized for a wrong answer. If not, leave yourself time to guess the correct answer when time is running out.
- * Research the employer. See if you can get information on the hiring process. Try to find practice tests.
- * Lastly, almost all assessments measure more than one thing. This means if you mess up one section, don't give up. Keep trying. Your performance on the entire assessment is what counts and everybody already knows that you're not perfect, so don't get frustrated in the middle of the test if you feel you've done less well on one part.

MAY IS STROKE AWARENESS MONTH

"Quick action can make all the difference in recovery when someone has a stroke. Know the symptoms, and call 9-1-1 immediately if you think you or someone you love has had a stroke."

Jose Parizi, M.D.
Neurologist

Signs of a stroke are:

- > Sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm, or leg, especially on one side of the body
- > Sudden confusion, trouble speaking or understanding
- > Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes
- > Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination
- > Sudden severe headache with no known cause

If you or a loved one experience ANY of these symptoms, call 9-1-1 immediately!

Bluffton Regional Medical Center is certified by The Joint Commission as an Advanced Primary Stroke Center.

Join Dr. Parizi to learn more about stroke Thursday, May 31, at 6 p.m. in the 4th floor conference room at Bluffton Regional Medical Center.
