ARE YOU ON A COLLISION COURSE?

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley

Procrastination has been a way of life for most of us. When we think a job is going to take longer than we have time for then we put it off. That is our perfectionism. We have been taught since the day we were born that if we can't do something right don't do it at all! We listened! We may not have heard much else that was said but that stuck in our minds.

Coupled with the pain of having to redo things over and over again when they were not up to the perfectionist standards; we just gave up before we ever got started. A lot of times we don't know where to start. This is the perfectionism monster again. The perfect place to begin! When we can let go of perfectionism; we can stop going down the path of procrastination.

I give you a place! Goshine your sink. It is a simple action that starts you in a direction toward peace. This is our very first habit! Keeping your sink clean and shiny is all you have to do. That shiny sink puts a smile on your face each morning. It is the only thing you have to do. With this one habit you are being kind to yourself. You are not piling on with a huge list.

As this one habit becomes automatic you can add another habit. Slow and steady relieves the guilt. This is being patient with yourself. You don't have to be perfect! You just have to do something instead of wring your hands and say I don't have time.

When you hear those words come out of your mouth, set your timer and do two minutes. You will be so surprised at what you can accomplish in those short two minutes. Don't allow your perfectionism to push you too hard or keep you from starting.

We have all heard the story of the tortoise and the hare. The hare procrastinated. He played and put things off because he felt like he had plenty of time to beat that slow tortoise. In the end he lost the race. Just imagine his stress level when he looked around and saw the tortoise winning. All of a sudden he got in a hurry! What happens when you get in a hurry!

Procrastination places guilt on our heads. We don't do well when well with this guilt and the stress that comes from waiting till the last minute. This stress is pushing our adrenaline buttons to put us into overdrive. So instead of taking your time and doing what you can, when you can; you are speeding down the highway to a head on collision!

Your adrenaline super fuel is what causes you to crash and burn! That "flash in the pan" burns out your engine and disables your thinking ability. You become the victim of your own procrastination. Please stop procrastinating! If you will only take BabySteps your journey will be slow and steady. Your home did not get dirty in a day and it will not get clean overnight! BabySteps will help you find the peace you are searching for. Progress not Perfection!

BASEMENT UPDATE

Well, we did it once again. The Bargain Basement is now ready for Spring and Summer if it ever gets here.

A huge thank you to Mary Daugherty, Donna Horn and Sherry Roop. Also to two young men. Jack Grace who is a Scout worked with Sherry one afternoon and Kendrick Scott and a friend helped load the heavy winter bags into the truck. Oh to be young and have muscle!

We were short on volunteers so Sherry put in many, many hours, we could not have done it without her. Her special areas are the book nook and toys. Our toy section has never been this great since we re-opened. She takes boxes and bags of toys home to organize and bag.

Prom time is coming up soon - do you have any dresses hanging in your closets you no longer need? With these dresses a young girl could realize her dream on a budget.

When you organize your closets this Spring, think of the B.B. if you decide you wouldn't wear that item again.

Please bring in the paper bags you may be saving and please ask for paper when you shop.

Thank you for your donations and shopping, they help the Civic Center keep functioning.

W COUNCIL NOTES

The Warren Town Council met on Monday evening, April 8 in Assembly Hall. President Julia Glessner called the meeting to order at 5:30 p.m.

Minutes of the February 11 meeting were approved as submitted.

Eva Witkamp asked permission to continue salvaging items from a home at 126 East First Street. This property was recently purchased by the Town of Warren for demolition. She had an agreement with the previous owner. Witkamp also asked permission to remove the windows from the property at 120 East First Street. Both requests were put on hold pending discussion with the Town's insurance carrier regarding the coverage of such activity.

Scott and Gina Canady, owners of building at 113 and 115 North Wayne Street, asked Council to consider CEDIT monies for the cost of roofing repairs on these buildings. They were advised CEDIT monies had not been used in this manner previously. They were advised that any such requests would be kept in mind when considering CEDIT projects.

Jack Trosper and Council member Barb Trosper asked that the Town move to clean up at 104 Hendricks. Huntington County had condemned the property with the Town to stand cost of removal. A shed and partial foundation still remain. The nuisance policy is scheduled to be reviewed. Citations are to be issued to the owner if such work is in the policy.

Marilyn Morrison reported that an amendment to the lease with AT&T for placement of additional antenna on the Eleventh Street tower and the final agreement shows Council's final offer.

Day presented quotes for demolition of houses at 120 and 126 East First Street. Quotes including: Zahm Excavating $19,600; Ironclad Excavating $31,333; Dirt Excavating $18,130; Huffman Construction $12,300. After discussion Council decided on Huffman Construction.

Council also discussed application for Huntington County CEDIT Fund to cover cost of demolition of these houses and the cost of shoring and roofing a building at 124 North Wayne Street. Morrison was instructed to submit a CEDIT application as soon as possible.

The project is hoped to be completed by the end of June if possible.

Following discussion and review of a sewer fund report. Council voted to continue with the process approved to increase rates with the Sewer utility.

Neil Laymon was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Warren Zoning Appeals, pending his acceptance.

Following discussion of a request made by a resident on State Road 5 to tap into the municipal water main, the request was approved. It will follow standard connection process.

The annual Electric Tractor Factor, the town's annual tracker is established by averaging monthly fuel costs charged by AEP and making a one-time adjustment. The 2013 tracker was set at .70664, a .033 increase.

Council approved a payment of $6,525.00 for annual maintenance of utility and fund software.

The week of May 6 has been set for Spring Clean-up. House are Monday through Friday, 8 to 5; Saturday, May 11, 8 to noon.

Council is in agreement to hire a company to detail all fixed assets of the town over $45,000.

Randy Potter has informed Council that he will no longer be able to continue with his Pest Control business. Quotes for that service are expected to be presented at the next Council meeting.

Council was presented a review of annual publication of tax rates throughout the county. It was also pointed out that Warren has the lowest municipal rate.

Day reported the February and March Utility/Street reports. He also reported that all seven sirens have been replaced and J&K will be on sight to complete the programming on April 9.

Council has also approved updating and replacement of lights on the bridge.

turkey to be harvested per licensed hunter. Legal turkey hunting requires a valid spring turkey license and game bird stamp. A person must not call wild turkeys for another individual unless licensed. Legal equipment is limited to shotguns and archery equipment. Use of bait, or any substance or product for animal consumption, is restricted by law. Hunter orange is not required by law but is considered an important safety consideration when going afield or leaving their hunting areas.

Hunters are reminded to be sure of their intended target and what is beyond. Because turkey hunting involves calling active male turkeys it is also important to remember not all calls are from wild birds. An important safety tip would be to avoid wearing red, blue, or white clothing as these colors are commonly part of a male turkeys' coloration.

Turkeys were extirpated from the state of Indiana by the 1900's. Restoration efforts were launched in 1956. In 2012 all 92 counties in Indiana have resident wild turkey populations.

Licensed, ethical hunters know the rules and play by them but poachers don't. Conservation Officers encourage hunters to use the TIP hotline to file a complaint. TIP is an acronym for Turn in a Poacher or Polluter. Anyone can use the TIP hotline. It's quick and simple to report a violation. The toll-free TIP phone number is 1-800-TIP-IDNR (1-800-847-4367). Complaints also can be filed online at tip.IN.gov.

GARDENING TIPS

Home gardeners seeking advice on growing plants and vegetables can find assistance from Purdue Extension. The spring of 2013 is certainly different from the previous year. Folks are now at least beginning to plan their gardening activities with warmer April weather.

In Huntington County both Purdue Extension staff and volunteers are providing gardening education to the public. Master Gardener volunteers from Huntington County are hosting workshops on gardening topics. Public sessions in 2013 have included growing herbs and landscaping properties. The next workshop will be held on Thursday June 6 at Heritage Hall in Hier's Park at 7 p.m. The topic of "Hybridizing" will be presented by local Master Gardener volunteers.

Huntington County Master Gardeners will also have their annual Spring Plant Sale on Saturday May 18 at Hier's Park from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Gardeners are encouraged to ask questions about plants that are available for sale. Master Gardeners will provide suggestions about how to properly care for plants as well as how a particular plant can be grown in a home landscape.

Demonstration gardens are planted and tended by Master Gardeners at the Forks of the Wabash and the Salamonie Reservoir Interpretive Center each year. Spending time in these gardens can be educational for youth and adults. The experiences help people better understand and appreciate a wide variety of plants.

Many resources pertaining to gardening can be found on-line. A Web site called "Vegetable Tips: Resources for Easy Gardening" is organized chronologically and walks visitors through the steps in growing vegetables. The site includes sections on "Getting Started," "Planning," "Planting" and "Growing." New gardeners can find information on tools to use, crops to grow and budgets for a vegetable garden. The vegetable gardening Web site can be accessed at <http://www.extension.purdue.edu/gardentips/vegetables/grow/>.

Other Purdue Extension gardening publications can be viewed by accessing the Purdue Extension Educational Store site (<https://mdc.itap.purdue.edu/dept.asp>) by clicking the "Horticulture" link. Many of the available publications can be downloaded for free. If you are having difficulty with finding information on-line on a gardening topic, send your question via e-mail to emfarris@purdue.edu.

A very helpful publication is called "Indiana Vegetable Planting Calendar" (HO-186-W). The dates and ranges for planting any type of vegetable can be found in this publication based on location in Indiana.

For more information, contact Ed Farris, Agriculture and Natural Resource Educator, Purdue Extension—Huntington County Office, 354 N Jefferson—Suite 202, Huntington by calling 260-358-4826.
