IS YOUR SUMMER VACATION REALLY A VACATION?

from the American Counseling Association

A vacation is a chance to get away from the normal routine of work and demands of daily life. When done right, a vacation should be a period of relaxation, enjoyment and recharging yourself. Research has shown that a vacation with those close to us is a shared experience that makes us happy, and continues to do so when we relive the experience afterwards.

But done badly, summer holidays can produce enough stress that some people need to return to daily life to rest up from that "vacation."

A relaxing summer holiday simply requires some planning and careful choices. A good vacation isn't about how long it lasts or where you go, but rather about what you do with your time, and the choices made to help you relax.

Most important is not trying to do too much. Experts suggest staying in fewer places for longer periods of time makes it easier to relax. Similarly, don't try to pack in too many activities. Scheduling is fine, but you don't need to fill every minute. Plan some free time when relaxing is your only goal.

For a family trip, reduce conflict and complaining by planning activities that will satisfy at least some of the needs of all family members. Talk with your kids about the trade-offs. Some things being planned will be to keep them happy, but help them understand that other activities are to keep mom and dad happy, too.

You can also reduce vacation stress by being realistic about work obligations. Constantly worrying about what's happening back in the office is not a way to relax. If you can't totally escape work issues, plan some specific work time. Set up an afternoon when the family can disappear to have fun and you can check in with the office and clear up any problems. When that's done, get back to your vacation and relaxing.

Your goal is to make vacation time restful and fun. Don't stress out by worrying that everything you've planned has to happen and has to be wonderful. Accept that your schedule is flexible, and if you discover something new and interesting, take the time to enjoy it. What you don't want is a schedule packed with activities that will leave everyone feeling tired, cranky and overwhelmed.

Keep your vacation simple, under-scheduled and flexible, and you have a better chance of coming back truly refreshed and reinvigorated.

COUNCIL MINUTES

The Town Council of the Town of Warren met Monday, July 9, 2018 in Assembly Hall, Council Meeting Room, 131 N. Wayne Street, in accordance with rules of Council and applicable law.

Those present were: Town Council, Ethan Stivers, Julia Glessner, Tracey Brown, Steve Buzzard; Clerk-Treasurer Marilyn Morrison; Employees, Lee Poulson, Dennis Spitler, Jason Caley; and others.

President Glessner announced the opening of the meeting at 5:00 pm.

Minutes of the Regular Meeting of June 11th were approved as submitted.

The owner of property at 312 W. Eleventh Street updated the situation noting that a vacant house on the property would eventually be demolished. Meanwhile, the property itself had been cleaned up and debris removed. He had been asked to provide an update to Council and the report was accepted. Marla Stambazze of the Department of Community Development reported on recent inspections noting that a wall at 214 N. Wayne Street is not up to code as an interior wall is now an exterior wall. Council determined that the owner be contacted for an update of plans. The owner of an uninhabitable vacant trailer on 443 Eleventh Street had complied with a request from DCD and was in contact with the DCD about future removal. Final action is scheduled for August 20th. Discussion centered on a horse being kept at a house on 907 N. Main which is not allowed. Further action will be taken. Another inspection of a property on 519 Third Street has been scheduled by the County Board of Health for July 19th. Also submitted for Council use were two sample ordinances of Minimum Housing Regulations.

Ordinance 2018-4, an Ordinance to update by amending the Building code to meet State Requirements was submitted for consideration of adoption. Stivers, seconded by Buzzard moved to adopt Ordinance 2018-14. The motion was approved unanimously.

Poulson updated the Eleventh Street Project noting that Vectren had scheduled to test newly installed lines on July 10th. If successful, hook up to individual houses will proceed. VTF, the Town's Contractor, is scheduled to being work on or about July 23rd. In related information, the INDOT closing of SR 5 between the Town and I-69 has been rescheduled for August.

Morrison noted that due to the possibility of Development occurring in the I-69 area, a meeting of Council would need to be scheduled before the next regular meeting of Council as the Tax Increment District would be impacted. No date as yet.

Morrison reported that there had been no response from the Department of Natural Resources in regard to removal of a continual log jam on the interurban pylons in the Salamonie River. Following discussion it was determined to contact State Senator Travis Holdman regarding the matter.

Following discussion, and by consensus, updates will be done to the public restrooms and to the annex restroom. Mostly maintenance type issues, the cost will be minimal.

Morrison submitted a thank you from a member of the Salamonie Summer Festival Committee for the continued support of the Warren Town Council and Town Employees noting that such support makes management of and preparation for the event much easier.

Morrison reported that the 2019 Municipal Budget preparation is complete pending information from the state. The annual meeting with the Indiana Department of Local Government Finance is scheduled for August 27th with the Budget Public Hearing scheduled for September 10th at a regular meeting of Council. Also reported was that the same state department, DLGF, had notified the acceptance of the additional appropriation for the INDOT-Community Crossings Fund established for the grant and transfer monies due to the Eleventh Street Project. The codification (organization) of Town Ordinances has been completed by American Legal Publishers. Steps are also being taken to add The Code Book to the Town's Website.

Marshal Spitler submitted the June Activity Report. Spitler requested the Council consider making the 2006 Tahoe, recently retired, available to the Huntington County Disaster Team, The group, operated through the Sheriff's Department, supplies volunteer support through traffic control and other service and has been active locally during Fireworks as well as in emergency situations. Buzzard moved, seconded by Brown, to supply the vehicle to DAT for the sum of four dollars. The motion was approved unanimously.

Poulson, as Fire Chief, reported that the Rescue Truck tools are scheduled for service on July 10th.

Poulson, as Utility Manager, reported that two of the three sewer pumps had been replaced with the other to be installed in approximately a week. The second quote has not yet been received for repair of the smaller of the Bucket Trucks. As recent power outages have been due to the recently installed recloser system, the unit has been recalibrated and different fuses installed. Power Line Supply has been providing the service.

Poulson reported that planned work on the pavilions is scheduled for August. In addition, the pavilions are to President Glessner requested review of the no smoking policy at Tower Park and requested that members consider making the entire Park smoke free. Currently certain areas are designated smoking. Following discussion it was determined to remove some parking places to close to the bleachers and, at the beginning of the next season, officers should spend some time educating visitors on the rules. Glessner also requested that an Advisory Park Board be re-established. No action taken.

The next regular meeting of Council is scheduled for August 13th. 2019 Budget public hearing is scheduled for September 10th with Adoption scheduled for October 8th.

The Accounts Payable Register was approved as submitted.

General discussion was held in which a request to lease a Town owned property was presented.

Following discussion, Stivers moved, seconded by Buzzard, lease of the property by a local business, Sonshine Bakery, as short term parking is a priority. The motion was approved unanimously. Morrison will proceed with the lease process.

THE ULTIMATE SUMMER DINING OUT GUIDE: 10 TIPS FOR A HEALTHIER YOU

(StatePoint) With summer, comes BBQs, beach days and dining out with family and friends. And if you're trying to lose weight or maintain your healthy lifestyle, a big part of being successful is having the freedom to enjoy the things you love and not feel deprived. Strike the right balance with this ultimate summer dining out guide from Mandi Knowles, dietitian for South Beach Diet.

1. Be choosy. Don't default to your neighborhood greasy spoon just for the sake of dining out. Try a new restaurant and make it a special occasion.

2. Go online before you dine. Most restaurants post their menus online. Make a game plan beforehand so you won't be tempted by healthier options in-person.

AREA NEWS CONTINUED

SAMUEL JONES PIONEER - JEFF SOUDER

This year's Samuel Jones Award winner has been a Warren area resident most, if not all, of his life. Nowadays it's not unusual to see him strolling down the streets of Warren, driving through Town in his little white vehicle, and, in fact, not all that unusual to answer the door and see him standing there with a pizza delivery. This year we congratulate Jeff Souder as the Pioneer Award Winner.

From being a part of a service group, festival committee, Chamber of Commerce Member, community volunteer, Jeff has been committed to the Warren Area Community from early on. He was a volunteer EMS driver before the units were professionally staffed and a member of Salamonie Active Men working on projects such as the Haunted House, Labor Day tractor pull, Christmas Tree sales, and SAM Olympics. Volunteering for the Pulse Opera House, he was part of the group that rescued old theater seats from another location that are still in use in the local venue. Over the years he has spent countless hours not only coaching baseball and softball teams at both the Knight Bergman Center and Tower Park but dragging diamonds, mowing, picking up rocks and in general, making sure the diamonds were good to use.

Mostly behind the scenes, he can be seen hanging scarecrows for the Scarecrow Festival, as well as other Chamber of Commerce support activities including the Chili Cook Off during the Scarecrow Festival, transporting downtown planters to the local Greenhouse to be filled and returned the next spring and making sure they are adopted and cared for by businesses during the summer season, taking care of and making sure the speakers in the downtown are operational, and then, those same planters are filled with Christmas Trees for the Holiday Season, not by magic, but, by Jeff's hands. The list could go on and on. His support for the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce is also evident as he has served as President and Member of the Board of Directors, and, continues to organize fund raising efforts including those for construction of the Chamber Park being installed on First Street.

As past President of Historic Warren, an Indiana Mainstreet Program, he currently serves on the Steering Committee and with wife Becky, attends Community Exchanges for new ideas and is instrumental in fund raising to support Structural and Façade Grant Programs in the Downtown while working with Indiana Landmarks to administer those grant programs. Jeff currently serves on the Executive Board of Huntington County Economic Development Group and is active in his Church, serving in various leadership positions.

Jeff epitomizes what it means to give back to this community and we have provided only a snap shot of his support. We know many, many people of the Warren Area have been impacted by the volunteer hours he has given. He will tell you he is only one of the many people who over the years have helped this community thrive which is true, but, he deserves recognition as this year's Samuel Jones Pioneer Award Winner for 2018.

3. Know your meal plan. Commit to ordering foods like lean protein and veggies steering clear of calorie bomb add-ons like heavy dressings and condiments.

4. Don't show up starving. Don't skip out on breakfast or snacks so you can splurge. Showing up overly hungry makes you likely to overindulge. Plus, skipping meals could lead to a blood sugar crash and subsequent snacking, throwing you off track.

5. Be the portion police. Restaurant portions are often two or three times the amount you need for any given meal. Consider sharing an entrée with a friend, saving half your meal for later, ordering from the kid's menu or choosing a few healthy appetizers instead of a full meal.

6. Start green. Start with a side salad to sneak in a serving of veggies and prevent overdoing it once your main meal arrives. Hold the croutons and cheese and ask for the dressing on the side.

7. Have it your way. Don't be afraid to ask for what you want. Seek out lighter preparations. Think steamed, broiled and grilled instead of breaded, battered and fried. Switch preparations, substitute ingredients, nix the butter or cream and if that's not possible, ask your server to point you to healthier selections.

8. Make reservations. Nothing's worse than waiting when you're hungry. Before you know it, you're seated and your desperate tummy is calling the shots.

9. Stay hydrated. According to a study published by the National Center for Biotechnology Information, drinking just over two cups of water 30 minutes before a meal helped dieters consume fewer calories and lose 44 percent more weight than those who didn't hydrate before meals. Bring a water bottle in the car with you so you feel fuller when you arrive.

10. End with coffee. Skip dessert and enjoy a coffee, tea or espresso to give your stomach time to signal your brain that you're full. Plus, you're ending the meal with a pick that's not packed with sugar, processed carbs and unhealthy fats.

GIVING BACK ON YOUR SUMMER VACATION

(StatePoint) Hitting the road this summer and want to do something good for the world along the way? Consider using your summer road trip as an opportunity to give back to the communities you visit. For some inspiration, check out these great ways Americans are rethinking vacations to include a touch of philanthropy.

Driving for Good

All those miles you log on the road can be for a good cause, if you look in the right places. Check out organizations and brands hosting fun fundraising or volunteer events on the road. For example, "MINI Takes the States," a biannual rally for MINI Cooper owners, gives participants an opportunity to explore America's beauty while raising money for Feeding America, the nation's largest hunger relief organization dedicated to fighting domestic hunger through a network of food banks. In 2016, rally participants raised enough money to provide 1,301,969 meals to families in need, and this year's goal is over 2 million meals. Occurring July 14 – 22 this year, MINI Takes the States will see owners kick off in either Orlando, Fla. or Portland, Ore. and converge in Colorado, passing through some of America's most interesting and beautiful sites and cities.

A portion of each registration fee is donated to Feeding America and participants are encouraged to start fundraising pages online and spread the word to friends and family to contribute to the cause. Each dollar raised will provide at least 10 meals to people in the U.S. struggling with hunger. To learn more, visit MINITakesTheStates.com or follow the conversation at #DriveForMore.

Transform Your Road Trip

America's parks need your help, particularly their hiking trails. Volunteer opportunities abound for those who wish to combine a road trip with trail stewardship. After traveling to your favorite park, join a volunteer crew to build or maintain a trail, increasing accessibility to America's most beautiful natural wonders.

Or, be someone who brakes for animals -- animal volunteer opportunities that is. Many animal sanctuaries welcome vacationing volunteers to provide extra hands. From socializing dogs to feeding horses, certain opportunities even include lodging to those giving their time.

By giving back to the places you visit, you can take the concept of the ultimate summer road trip to new heights.
