At 9:30 a.m., there will be a session on “Without a Will in Indiana” publication HHS-789-W. Do you have a will? If not, do you know what would happen to your belongings if you die without one? This publication and workshop provides a brief explanation of how property is distributed when someone dies without a will. It also includes resources for preparing a will.

At 10:30 a.m., “Cancer Prevention and Survivorship” – Whether you are undergoing treatment, are a survivor or have a loved one that has been diagnosed with cancer, it is a disease that impacts all. Finally, at 11:30 a.m. a session entitled “Sumptuous Smoothies and Shakes” – Need something cool, refreshing, quick and an energy booster? Smoothies and shakes, available at almost any restaurant, café, or drive through today are great for a healthy snack, light meal, or split one for a dessert! While they are not super expensive, they can cost up to $3 or $4 for something you can make yourself for under $1. This lesson will look at both the health benefits of drinking shakes and smoothies as well as cost saving tips in making them.

All sessions are free and open to the public. No pre-registration is required. For more information, call Purdue Extension at 765-651-2413 or contact Mindy Mayes at mayes7@purdue.edu.

LEADERSHIP CLASS

Huntington County Adult Leadership is partnering with Purdue Extension to bring a Community Leadership program to Huntington County. The intent is to encourage more people to get involved in leadership opportunities that will help make Huntington County a better place to live, work and play. The Feb. 2nd, 2016 HCL Course was facilitated by Heather Strohm. Heather is a Regional Community Development Educator for Purdue Extension. Prior to the course, the HCL students were instructed to gather facts about Huntington County that helped shape the area and helped to put it on the map. The students used the first half of the course to peg these facts onto a timeline to create a visual piece of how the county has grown and progressed over the years. The students then came up with a list of how they would like to see the county continue to grow in the years to come and also identified some of the road blocks that may potentially be a hindrance if they are not addressed.

Huntington County Leadership Class met for the 3rd time Tuesday morning, Feb 9th, 2016. The topic of this class focused on "Leading Through Interpersonal Communication" with exercises that built skills and understanding for how we listen, how we speak, and how we give and receive feedback. We worked in groups of 3 to brainstorm what good listeners do, what the barriers to good listening are, and how we can practice good listening skills and then shared all our ideas as a group. Next, we repeated this exercise with what it takes to be a good speaker, barriers to speaking, and how to practice being a better speaker. We also talked about Huntington County's Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats to the growth and future of the county. We all took pictures of different places in the county that represents the strengths and weaknesses of the county and what we could do to turn the weaknesses into opportunities and then strengths. As we closed out the meeting, we talked about which community projects we want to work on to put our leadership skills into action to serve and help our local community and the county as a whole.

The second half of the course focused on identifying personal leadership abilities and also leadership skills amongst other community leaders. The students performed several small team activities to find a common theme regarding positive leadership qualities that will be instrumental in providing a foundation to keep Huntington County moving forward.

On February 23 the HCL (Huntington County Leadership) class were treated to 2 panels of Huntington community leaders. The first panel's topic of discussion was about educational opportunities in Huntington County. The panel members included Randy Harris Superintendent of HCCSC, Aimee Lunsford Principal of Flint Springs, Laura Lahr Preschool teacher at Flint Springs, and Lisa McDonald Guidance Counselor at Crestview. The facilitator was Chuck Werth. Topics of discussion included how the education system has changed in recent years, how students learn today, and the roles and expectations of schools today.

The second panel discussion included Tiffany Drummond HCCSC Career and Technical Education Director, Dawn Schmidt Huntington County Literacy Coalition Coordinator, Gary Gatman Northeast Indiana Works, and Diana Smith Pro Resources Regional Manager. This discussion was facilitated by Tabitha Brown. Their topic was building an employable work force. Topics included were job opportunities in our area, training available, and the importance of certain skills needed to obtain the jobs available.

The class will use some of the things talked about as they develop four projects. The projects will be worked on in small groups throughout the class time period and are intended to help the Huntington Community.

For more information on the program, contact Karen Hinshaw at Purdue Extension Huntington County at kdhinsha@purdue.edu or 260-

RECEIVE 501C3 STATUS

Warren Health and Fitness (WHF) has received our 501 C 3 status from the federal government which establishes us as a charitable organization. This means that the facility including, the building and equipment have been donated to the community and are no longer owned by any one person. Because of our new classification, WHF can now receive charitable contributions, much like the local churches.

Just like the people in the community make up the church and contribute to the church's upkeep and activities, the same is now true of WHF. What we do at WHF is geared towards the community, and in order to benefit the community, we'll need the community's support. We may look like just a gym, but we're much more than that, we are a cause. Warren Health and Fitness provides opportunities for people of all ages and backgrounds to learn about youth development, healthy living, and social responsibility.

Our classification may be different, but our mission remains the same: Warren Health and Fitness is dedicated to improving the quality of human life and helping all people in our community realize their fullest potential as children of God, through mental, physical, and spiritual development. Our goals for 2016 are to purchase new spinning bikes, renovate/add on to class studio, and place signage on the road and the facility itself. We cannot accomplish these goals and continue to see individuals and the community grow without your help.

Come in, see what we're about, and give what you can. We look forward to serving our community of friends for many years to come. We are always looking for volunteers as instructors, child watch, or handy man.

SCIENCE AMBASSADORS

Do you know a high school student with a love for science? Do you think they might be a good Science Teacher? Do you think they would be good at sharing their love of science with others? If yes – that person would be a good Science Ambassadors for Teens as Teachers!

Our Science Ambassadors will have six meetings where they will try different activities to offer youth groups, school classrooms, 4-H clubs, scout groups, etc. This group will also be in charge of the National Science Day experiment in the fall.

The dates of the planning/practice sessions will be March 14, March 28, April 11, April 25, May 9 and May 23. Youth are encouraged to attend at least 4 of these. They will be from 5 – 6:30 pm at the Courthouse Annex.

There is a $15 fee for youth that are not currently enrolled in 4-H. All supplies for the activities will be furnished.

HELPLINE LAUNCHED

The Indiana State Department of Health launched the Maternal and Child Health (MCH) MOMS Helpline today. The new hotline replaces the Indiana Family Helpline and emphasizes services that can help reduce infant death in Indiana.

"The MOMS Helpline is a free resource that assists pregnant women in getting access to early and regular prenatal care," said State Health Commissioner Jerome Adams, M.D., M.P.H. "Visiting a doctor early and often can help give women the best chance of having a healthy baby."

The Indiana State Department of Health has identified reducing infant mortality, which is defined as the death of a baby before his or her first birthday, as a top priority. In an effort to help address this critical issue, the MOMS Helpline is committed to improving pregnant women's access to early and regular prenatal care and connecting them with a network of prenatal and child health care services within their local communities, state agencies and other organizations around Indiana.

When a client connects with the helpline, the communication specialist at the helpline identifies her needs by obtaining household and demographic information, verifying income and type of health coverage. Depending on the individual's health coverage or income, specialists aim to provide at least three referrals for every need by matching the person with resources in the helpline's extensive statewide information database. Once women receive the information and referrals, they are encouraged to call the providers in their network to make an appointment. If necessary, specialists are usually able to find low-cost providers who serve the uninsured and sometimes provide free services. Additionally, for the majority of cases, specialists are able to locate transportation services to and from medical appointments if needed.

The helpline incorporates many of the services from the old Indiana Family Helpline. It can connect Hoosiers with services that include:

- * Locating a health care provider
- * Prenatal services
- * Health coverage enrollment, including the Healthy Indiana Plan (HIP) 2.0
- * Care for baby, including the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program
- * Baby programs, including safe sleep information
- * Immunizations
- * Baby items, such as cribs and car seats
- * Care for moms
- * Transportation providers
- * Free testing sites for pregnancy, HIV and sexually transmitted diseases
- * Housing assistance
- * Nutrition assistance, such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

YOUTH TURKEY HUNTS

Youth hunters can apply for reserved turkey hunts during the special youth wild turkey hunting season, April 23 and 24, on selected DNR properties.

Youth hunters must be younger than age 18 on the day of the hunt.

Participating fish & wildlife areas are: Atterbury, Chinook, Crosley, Deer Creek, Fairbanks Landing, Glendale, Goose Pond, Hillenbrand, Hovey Lake, Jasper-Pulaski, Kankakee, Kingsbury, LaSalle, Pigeon River, Roush Lake, Sugar Ridge, Tri-County, Wabashiki, Willow Slough and Winamac.

Mississinewa and Salamonie lakes also are participating.

A limit will be placed on the number of youth hunters allowed to hunt a property on each hunting day. Registration begins March 21 and runs through April 1. Interested hunters or an adult representing them must register in person or by phone during the normal office hours for the property they wish to hunt. Hunters are allowed to register for only one property.

Those wanting to sign up for the Chinook or Wabashiki hunts may do so at Deer Creek FWA. Those wanting to sign up for Fairbanks Landing or Hillenbrand hunts may do so at Goose Pond FWA.

At properties where the number of registered hunters exceeds the spots available, a drawing will be held on April 4. A youth hunter may be drawn for either or both hunt days, depending on the number of applicants. All applicants will be notified of drawing results by mail.

Applicants must possess a 2016 youth consolidated hunting & trapping license, a 2016 non-resident youth spring turkey license with a game bird habitat stamp privilege, or a lifetime comprehensive hunting license. Apprentice hunting licenses of the types named above also may be used.

Hunts will be conducted one-half hour before sunrise until noon at properties in the Central Time Zone, and one-half hour before sunrise until 1 p.m. on properties in the Eastern Time Zone.

Youth hunters who are selected for the hunt may check in at any time each day until the end of legal hunting hours for that property. Properties will not have a daily "no-show" drawing. Hunters interested in possible unfilled quotas at a property should phone that property for more information before showing up.

During youth wild turkey season, hunters younger than age 18 on the day of the hunt can take a bearded or male wild turkey. The youth must be accompanied by someone 18 or older.

The youth hunter may use any legal shotgun, bow and arrow or crossbow. The adult accompanying the youth hunter must not possess a firearm, bow and arrow or crossbow while in the field. The adult does not need to possess a turkey hunting license unless the youth is using an apprentice license, or unless the adult is calling turkeys.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Friends of Ouabache State Park will sponsor two free programs on the fascinating story of how the state park system formed. Jody Heaston, Indiana State Park Volunteer Coordinator, will present her exciting program about the formation of the Indiana State Park system on March 7 at 1pm in the Ossian Library and repeat it on March 22 at 6:30pm in the Lodge at Ouabache State Park. This year the state park system will celebrate its 100th birthday.

Did you know the state park system almost didn't happen because a lumber company outbid the citizens of Indiana for a property? Did you know that instead of one state park there were two state parks given to Indiana to celebrate its centennial in 1916? Can you name those two parks?

People in attendance will get special state park centennial brochures to take home.

Myra Myrtle, president of Friends of Ouabache State Park, said "This is a great time to learn about the state park history before recreation season begins. We hope people leave the program excited about visiting Ouabache State Park as well as other parks in Indiana during this special centennial year."

Friends of Ouabache State Park will also provide information about future park projects and how to join the group to support Ouabache State Park. The Friends group mission is to serve our community to provide interpretation and volunteer opportunities in an effort to remember past contributions, and to promote and preserve our park for future generation.
