JEKYLL & HYDE A WINNER

"The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" opened last Friday to rave reviews. Set as a series of flashbacks during the inquisition of Dr. Jekyll, the show begs the audience to draw their own conclusions as to why Mr. Hyde takes over the personality of Dr. Jekyll. Is it the potion? Or did Mr. Hyde lurk inside the doctor all along? Bart Willard, who plays the dual part, makes a phenomenal transition right before your eyes. At the end of each act, a literal hush can be heard. A very different style than traditional Pulse shows, Jekyll and Hyde is dark, rather intense and not appropriate for young children.

Jekyll and Hyde takes the Pulse back to its beginnings. In its heyday, traveling shows would make their way through small towns such as Warren. Jekyll and Hyde was a favorite performed many times by different companies. Often done as a melodrama, the show would always draw large crowds. The Pulse version is much more contemporary, but maintains the period feel. A very good show for Halloween, Jekyll and Hyde is eerie in its style and eerie in it's reminiscence of years gone by.

Put it on your calendar and get your reservations now. This is an extremely well done classical show. One that you'll think about for days. Reservations are still available by calling the box office at 260-375-7017 or on the net at www.pulseoperahouse.org. Remaining show dates are October 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, and 19. Tickets are $10.00. The new lobby opens at 7:00 pm one hour prior to the performance. While visiting the lobby, check out the murals. Bart Willard (Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde) was the artist!

(Editor's Note: Wow – What a great show. The acting was wonderful, the effects were astounding and the whole show was extraordinary. The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is a unique story in it's own but, the Pulse Opera House cast brought it to life on the stage. Bart Willard creates an exceptional role of good versus evil as Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. The ladies in the cast, Linda Willard as Jeanne Poole and Rebecka Oden as Rachel Lanyon, are masters of their roles and never miss a beat. Mark Esch is fascinating as Inspector Newcomen, subversive as Dowling and momentary as Lord Danvers Crew. Dr. David Lanyon, portrayed by Steve Rodenberger is brilliant as Dr. David Lanyon, best friend of Dr. Jekyll.

Director Cynthia Smyth-Wartzok and her cast and crew have created another stunning performance with a lot of hard work and talent. From sets, to costumes, to acting The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is a must see from the Pulse Opera House for all who can handle a little of the macabre.

Congratulations on a Job Well Done ladies and gentlemen.)

CHILD CARE PROVIDERS NEEDED

Every parent has a right to quality child care. Unfortunately not all parents have access to care that meets their family's needs. Parents who work 2nd or 3rd shift, weekends, or who receive vouchers don't have as many options. Huntington County is establishing a child care network that will increase providers and improve quality. "With Child Care Development Funding being cut across the state, this project comes at a very crucial time," Wendy Mink of DCMI's Child Care Resource and Referral. Financial assistance along with a mentoring program is available to individuals who want to start a family home child care. Caregivers must be willing to become licensed and operate either second or third shift. Indiana licensing regulations require that providers have a high school diploma or GED and obtain a Child Development Associate Credential within 3 years of licensure. An informational meeting will be held at the Huntington Public Library on Thursday, October 10 from 7:30 to 8:30 pm. Materials about the network and child care in general will be available to all who attend. Anyone who is unable to make the library meeting may stop by the Office of Family and Children at 88 Home Street, Huntington on Mondays from 10 am to noon or may call the local child care resource and referral office at (260)468-9027.

PAL BASKETBALL

ATTN: PARENTS OF PRESCHOOLERS

Little Panther Preschool held at Central Christian Church in Van Buren is currently accepting applications to fill classes held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A fast paced, learning-based program, it is the mission of Central Christian Church and Little Panther Preschool to provide a Christian environment for young children making the gentle transition from the home setting to the more formal setting of the schoolroom.

Beginning October 15th 2002, preschool classes will meet Tuesday-Thursday, 8:30-11:00 a.m. for ages 2 & 3 and 12:00-2:30 for ages 4 & 5 to promote early childhood development and education.

Through community involvement Little Panther Preschool is able to extend its curriculum from one to two classroom sessions in an effort to reach more children and help parents making this new transition.

All activities are oriented to give children the confidence and foundation needed for upcoming school years. To allow for these experiences, classroom schedule revolves around reading and writing through Hooked-On-Phonics, mastery of shapes, colors, and calendar, physical exercise, arts-crafts, Bible basics, songs and snacks. Additional lessons include areas of science, history, and geography.

So come make new friends while joining the fun and excitement at Little Panther Preschool!

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

On September 28th an auction was taking place a block away from my home. People were parking in my side yard. I don't know if these people had been outside recently, but at my house it had rained quite hard the last two days. Common sense would tell me not to park in some ones yard.

Needless to say I have two foot deep ruts I my yard. To these people I would like to say wake up! A simple note saying sorry would have been wonderful. Instead I have some serious yard work to do. I never thought to post no parking signs or rope off my yard. I guess common sense and courtesy are two things these geniuses don't posses.

Anita Sharpe

EDITOR:

A recent central-Indiana's newspaper's front-page headlines reflected the contrasts of our life values in Indiana. The top headline focused on the Colts and the possibility that the team might leave Indianapolis. The mid-page headline announced the closing of the Dayspring Center, a homeless shelter for families. Pictures of Colts' owner Jim Irsay and a five year-old child accompanied the respective articles.

Though all people have challenges and issues of life to address, my guess is that the Colts owner slept comfortably that night after a nourishing meal and at least adequate surroundings. Not necessarily so for the five year-old. How about their respective tomorrows?

I have no idea what a professional football owner does in a day. I am sure it is productive and the community will again benefit from the presence of the Colts in Indianapolis. Just recently Colts team members again demonstrated their human connection to the residents of central Indiana. Peyton Manning's commitment to urban young men is real. The same can be said for team members who collected contributions on behalf of the storm victims. We all benefit from the Colts presence in Indianapolis.

I do have an idea what the five year-old's day might be like. And the day of so many children in Indiana who have no home and who have too little to eat and who have no safe place to really sleep and rest. A place to call home. Most of us remember how fitfully we slept the night of September 11, 2001. Some children and their parent(s) live in real danger every night. September 11, 2001, was likely no big change for them.

I'll not forget reading a letter from an inner city principal last spring. The principal described her day. Much of the day was spent working with the children of a family who had lost a family member in a shooting the night before. Fear. Hunger. Lack of rest. Learning to read better wasn't even on the radar screen for the children involved. In some communities, police sirens and shootings and drug dealings are just part of the every-night and every-weekend experience of children and families.

The headlines referenced above came in the midst of ISTEP+ testing. It doesn't matter if the children involved attend a private or a public school, a charter or some other school. They were taking ISTEP+, Indiana's high-stakes test for students and schools. And, their hunger and lack of stability and fear have likely extended well beyond recent memory. Their schools will be held accountable, however, for the test results of every child attending there. Do we really think that the children of similar circumstance to the front-page child have an equal chance to score well with the children who might live in Mr. Irsay's neighborhood? Yet, their test scores will be compared. Some, maybe many, will be found to be failing. Any surprise?

There isn't enough money from all of us to keep a shelter open. But, most of us are betting that we find the additional money necessary to keep the Colts or, if they leave, to lure another NFL team to our area. Indianapolis is a better place because the Colts are here. I hope they stay. The children represented by the front-page picture will not leave nor will it take money to lure them here. They are part of us.

WINDOWS COMPUTER TIPS

Watch what you're doing or you might teach your Windows a bad habit!

Did you know that Windows is able to "pick-up" certain habits from you if you repeat them over and over?

For example, Windows inserts "Shortcut to" in front of the name of your shortcut. You might not like this for the following reasons: You can tell that it's a shortcut by looking at the little shortcut-box that Windows puts over the icon.

If you have more than a few shortcuts, "Shortcut to" text can take too much of a display area and clutter your desktop.

It makes it hard to jump from one shortcut to another by pressing the first letter of a given shortcut, since all shortcuts begin with "Shortcut to" or S.

If the "Shortcut to" part from the names that Windows generate, it'll eventually figure out that you don't like the "Shortcut to" part of the name. If you repeatedly (for up to 8 times) take out the "Shortcut to" part from the new shortcuts, Windows will stop adding extra text to the name in the future.

Unlimited number of wallpapers for your computer

Don't overlook Internet Explorer's and Netscape Navigator's "Set as Wallpaper" function. You can set any image you see on the web as your Windows wallpaper using this function.

Right click on the image you want to use as your new wallpaper.

Select "Set as Wallpaper".

Some tip you would like to see? I'll try and find it. Email Jane at jami@citiznet.com

TRAVELING PHARMACIST

Your Pharmacist, Terry Daniels, and family were privileged to attend the wedding ceremony of their nephew Tim Johnson & Kristie Eckert in Lancaster, N.Y. (a suburb of Buffalo) on Sept. 28, 2002. We were able to visit with a majority of Terry's family, and took a quick trip to the Canadian side of Niagara Falls (make sure everyone in your vehicle has identification, especially children, or you will get a free tour of the immigration office). Ate some real Buffalo wings! Be thankful that gas prices are only in the $1.30's instead of the $1.50's. Thanks to all who worked at the Warren Pharmacy while we were gone!

TOOTH TIPS

By: Dr. Kevin J DeaKyne DDS, PC
KIDS, SODA POP & TOOTH DECAY

We have become a "Soda Junkie" Society. In 2000 15 billion gallons were sold. That works out to at least one 12-ounce can per day for every man, woman and child.<sup>i</sup> How does the soda give you cavities? Sugar in your soda plus bacteria in your mouth equals acid. Acid attacks your teeth. Each attack last about 20 minutes. Statistics for soda with acidity (lower number is worse) and sugar content.<sup>ii</sup>

Top 7 Acidity (ph) 7 is neutral

1. Pepsi 2.49
2. Coke 2.53
3. Orange Minute Maid 2.80
4. Hawaiian Fruit Punch 2.82
5. Squirt 2.85
6. Diet Pepsi 3.05
7. Diet Coke 3.39

Top 7 Highest Sugar

1. Grape Minute Maid 11.9 tsp
- Orange Slice 11.9 tsp
2. Orange Minute Maid 11.2tsp
3. Mountain Dew 11.0 tsp
4. Barq's Root Beer 10.7 tsp
5. Hawaiian Fruit Punch 10.2tsp
6. Pepsi 9.8 tsp
7. Coke 9.3 tsp

60% of all public and private middle schools and high schools nationwide sell soda pop (Elem. Schools?). This has led to drastic increases in tooth decay in kids (and adults) along with other possible health problems including obesity, caffeine dependence, and weakened bones. We can reduce the chances for tooth decay by drinking soft drinks in moderation. No sipping for extended period of time. Ongoing sipping prolongs sugar and acid attacks on your teeth. Use a straw to keep sugar away from your teeth. Drinking more water to dilute sugar and acid. (It's better for you anyway!) Some other ways to help reduce decay is good brushing and flossing habits with regular checkups and cleanings at your dentist.

AFTERSCHOOL STORY TIME

Thirteen children attended the After School Story Time at the Van Buren Public Library on Friday October 4, 2002. As they entered the library they were given a picture of a Pumpkin to color to hang in the windows of the library.

Then Our special guest arrived Susan Eichhorn Education Coordinator of the East Central Indiana Solid Waste District. She shared information on landfills and why we should recycle. The landfills have different layers to try and protect our environment as much as they can, but we all need to do our share and recycle. She had a chart and was able to show us the different layers it was very interesting.

Then for our refreshments she made and served us a landfill made out of delicious food. She used cereal, twizzlers, fruit roll-up, gummy worms and pudding and layered it. It was full of sugar and boy was it good. The children really enjoyed it.

After our refreshments Susan shared some ideas on what we could put on our posters for the American Recycles Day Contest, which we will work on next week with our special guest, an Artist, Mrs. Susan Hodge. Everyone is really excited about getting started on the posters.

Susan Eichcorn gave each child a plastic bottle made from recycled milk bottles. The library staff wants to thank Susan for coming and sharing.

Those attending were: Cassie Davis, Kari Roush, Courtney Bosley, Icily Cromer, Jessica Smith, Taylor Beck, Kayleigh Hylton, Mallory Messersmith, Harley Denham, Brittini-lynn Davis, Mallory Messersmith, Jake Wright and Seth Wright.

SEASONAL STORY TIME

Joan Boyer led a seasonal storytime Friday using apples as her theme. She read How Do Apples Grow, A Tree is a Plant and Ten Apples On Top. She also shared with the children pictures from the book An Apple Tree. The children were also treated to Mrs. Boyer's story about The Magic Apple explaining the star inside each apple. She gave the children an apple half, a candy treat, an apple coloring sheet and a matching apple sheet.

Attending were Andrew Freck, Sarah Leininger, Dylan Hutson, Alex Tolen, Amanda Tolen and Zachary Tolen.

Story time is each Friday at 10:00 a.m. at the Warren Library.

BOXELL GET-TOGETHER

Sunday, Sept. 29th was enjoyed by 52 members of the Boxell family at the home of DeWayne and Pat Boxell. A delicious meal and an afternoon of fellowship was enjoyed by Robert and Martha Glass of Fruitland Park, FL; Gary and Stacey Glass of Fort Wayne; Mike and Janice Boxell of Valparaiso; Megan Boxell, Mark McBride and Zackery of Decatur; Eldon and Janet Richison of Marion; Steve Boxell and children, Cathie, Katlyn, Ian and Ashleen of Liberty Center; Betsy Hovey of Huntington; Jeff and Beth Sims and children, JJ, Brook, Terrie and Lindsey of Roanoke; Jim and Sandra Boxell of Majenica, Jeff Boxell of Huntington, Charles and Beverly Boxell, Mike and Jo Driscoll; Ryan and Renee Campbell and children Corey and Jalyn; Keith and Mary Boxell and daughter Kodi; Cindy Boxell, Jay and Deb Shaw and daughter Jessica; Ronnie and Bonnie Boxell; Max and Patty Boxell; Chod and Claudia Boxell and children Shelby and Taylor; Bill Boxell; and the host and hostess DeWayne and Pat Boxell, all of Warren.

MORE PAGE 2

For most, the child's front-page picture will fade. For schoolteachers and principals and superintendents, the pictures never fade. Only the potential of the students involved fades. Higher standards and higher expectations do little to help when a child is hungry, fearful and has no place to call home. As some have challenged, we need to look in the mirror when children are hungry and homeless. How can we let that happen and not be bothered? We need to look in the mirror. Better yet, we need to look at hungry kids and homeless kids every day. Only then will we know the real challenges we face. Keeping the Colts in Indianapolis is a high priority. Giving children an equal opportunity to be well fed and live in a safe environment and come to school ready to learn must, someday, become an even higher priority.

Executive Director
Indiana Association of Public School Superintendents

Digital mammography. Find it here first.

Announcing Indiana's first Full-Field GE Digital Mammography System.

When it comes to breast cancer, early detection saves lives. That's why Bluffton Regional Medical Center is at the forefront of an amazing new technology to help diagnose breast cancer early. It's called the Full-Field GE Digital Mammography System, and we're the first hospital in the state to offer this advanced diagnostic service.

The new digital system uses computer aided detection (CAD) to help doctors see more with fewer images. Visibility of the breast is improved, particularly near the skin line, chest wall, and in women with dense breast tissue. In addition, exam time is reduced, and fewer call-backs are needed.

Of course, traditional film-based mammography is still available for the select few women who are unable to have a digital mammogram.

To learn more, or to schedule a mammogram in our private mammography suite, call 260.824.3210 (ext. 3250). And let Bluffton Regional Medical Center help you beat the odds.
