FAFSA HELP

Financial aid professionals will be volunteering at 13 Ivy Tech Community College campuses to help college-bound students and their families open the door to financial aid during College Goal Sunday, set for 2 p.m. (local time), February 12, 2012.

The free sessions are available at Ivy Tech's campuses in Avon, Bloomington, East Chicago, Evansville, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Lawrenceburg, Logansport, Muncie, Richmond, South Bend, Terre Haute and Warsaw. For a complete list of locations and addresses, visit www.collegegoalsunday.org.

The free program is designed to assist Indiana students seeking undergraduate admission to a college or technical school in 2012 in filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA is required for students to be considered for federal and state grants, loans and scholarships at most colleges, universities and vocational/technical schools nationwide and must be filed by March 10 to be eligible for state aid. Completing this required form correctly and by the deadline is sometimes perceived to be complicated and time consuming. In one afternoon at College Goal Sunday, students and their families can get free help and file the form online.

Now in its 23rd year, College Goal Sunday, a charitable program of the Indiana Student Financial Aid Association (ISFAA), has helped more than 87,000 Indiana students and families complete the FAFSA properly and on time, opening the door to financial aid for college.

What students should bring To make filing the FAFSA easier, volunteers walk through the form line-by-line and answer families' individual questions. All sites offer FAFSA online capabilities and many have Spanish interpreters. A complete list of sites is available at www.CollegeGoalSunday.org. Students should attend College Goal Sunday with their parent(s) or guardian(s) and bring their parents' completed 2011 IRS 1040 tax returns, W-2 Forms and other 2011 income and benefits information. Students who worked last year, should bring their income information. Students 24 years of age or older may attend alone and bring their own completed 2011 IRS 1040 tax return, W-2 Form or other 2011 income and benefits information. Students and parents may apply for their U.S. Department of Education Personal Identification Numbers (PINs) at

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

THE UPTOWN GARDENER by Ruth Herring

We have been lucky to miss the snows, it is fine with me. The last snow was a bit more than the ole folks could handle. As many of you know Wayne has been having some issues with that nasty cancer. He is doing quite well but has limitations as to how much he can do. So we had to call in the troops to get the walks and drive cleaned off. Our thanks to John and Treva for a job well done. Winter is far from being over and quite sure we will get much more of the fluffy stuff.

I was in the sun room and was surprised to see nearly all the geraniums blooming, sure gave a feeling of spring. They may have a new home come spring as we are seriously considering down sizing to smaller headquarters, but they have been a "cheering me" up thing this winter. For now I really need to think about sorting out possessions that have accumulated over the past 50 years. Amazing how you collect STUFF that you now consider priceless. At least we have something to keep us busy thru the rest of the winter.

Soon February will be well upon us and guys you know what that means, a special gift for that favorite lady in your life. If you are lucky like Wayne, he gets off easy as I really don't get excited with a box of chocolates I prefer a bag of cherry slices from the Dollar Store. Either way have a HAPPY VALENTINES DAY.

Here is a valentines treat to make.

Banana Split Ice Cream Pie

1 4 or 5 ounce package of rolled sugar ice cream cones broken up, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter melted, 1 pint chocolate ice cream, 1 medium banana finely chopped, 1 pint strawberry ice cream, 1 8 ounce can crushed pineapple well drained. For crust in food processor combine cones and sugar, cover process till ground fine. Add melted butter and process till combined. Press mixture into 10 inch pie pan. For the filling - In bowl soften chocolate ice cream using a wooden spoon working it til pliable, add banana and spoon over the crust evenly and freeze till firm, Soften the strawberry ice cream in same manner stir in pineapple add on top of the chocolate mixture. Freeze several hours- 6- 24 hours.

To serve let pie set out 10-15 minutes at room temperature, top with dessert whip topping, garnish with maraschino cherries drizzled with chocolate fudge ice cream topping and sprinkle with chopped nuts and colorful sprinkles. Serves 10.

Program assists all students "Nearly half of Indiana's college students qualify for financial aid from the State of Indiana," said Donette Cassman, Sallie Mae, Inc., chairman of College Goal Sunday. "College Goal Sunday helps students and families better understand the financial aid process and brings students one step closer to fulfilling their educational goals."

According to the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI), programs like College Goal Sunday are reaching first-generation college students. In addition, according to SSACI statistics, in recent years, more single-parent Hoosier families have filed for financial aid, indicating programs like College Goal Sunday are reaching high-risk students and their families.

"Financial aid professionals have seen firsthand the disappointment of students who don't complete their financial aid paperwork properly," said Cassman. "That's why the Indiana Student Financial Aid Association continues to provide College Goal Sunday. If our assistance gives students a better chance at higher education, we're fulfilling our mission."

Attendees may win educational prizes

Students who attend any of the College Goal Sunday sites and submit a completed evaluation form will automatically be entered in a drawing for an educational prize. Winners will be notified in March; prizes will be sent directly to the higher education institutions selected by the winning students.

Twenty-first Century Scholars benefit

Twenty-first Century Scholars are income-eligible students who sign a contract in the seventh or eighth grade promising they will graduate from high school with a minimum of 2.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale, refrain from using drugs and alcohol, and apply for college financial aid. Upon high school graduation, Scholars who have fulfilled the commitment receive state funds to help cover their college tuition and fees for eight semesters at eligible Indiana colleges. To fulfill their pledge, scholars must submit a completed FAFSA form on time. College Goal Sunday can help.

Program is a national model
College Goal Sunday has more than tripled its reach, from 10 sites statewide in its first year to 40 sites currently, and it has become a national model to other College Goal Sunday programs. In addition to Indiana, College Goal Sunday now takes place in more than 35 other states.

Helpline open during Financial Aid Awareness Month

ISFAA's College Goal Sunday is one of the highlights of Financial Aid Awareness Month. In February, students and their families can call the Learn More Resource Center helpline at 800-992-2076 and have their questions answered by financial aid professionals.

The Indiana Commission for Higher Education supports the Helpline.

For more information about College Goal Sunday or Financial Aid Awareness Month, call the Helpline at 800-992-2076 or visit www.CollegeGoalSunday.org.

"We are very fortunate to continue to be able to offer this financial fitness program to educate the communities we serve on the importance of improving credit and increasing financial stability in 2012 and beyond," stated Natalie Fisher, Homeownership Education Coordinator for Pathfinder Community Connections. "People who participate in our workshops have found ways to improve their credit scores and continue along the path towards financial fitness. This is the first key to becoming successful homeowners and we are happy to help families through the process," Fisher concluded.

These workshops are made possible through grants received from NeighborWorks America, Ecolab, Jones Abstract, Lake City Bank, PNC Bank and State Farm Insurance.

PESTICIDES & WATER TESTING

Fred Whitford, Purdue Pesticide Programs Coordinator, has made many stops across the state (including Huntington) explaining why pesticide applicators should test water sources before application of chemicals.

In his talk Whitford stressed the importance of understanding that water hardness and pH are two separate items to evaluate in a watertest. A series of studies at Purdue University has shown that spray water pH and hardness can reduce the effectiveness of herbicides, making it vitally important for crop producers to test water sources.

Hard water or water with pH values as low as 4 or as high as 9 have been shown to lower the efficacy of herbicides, including glyphosate, nicosulfuron and saflufenacil, said Bill Johnson, Purdue Extension weed scientist and professor of botany and plant pathology. An ideal pH value would be 6-7.

"At this point, it seems to be specific to a limited number of compounds," Johnson said. "It's amazing how little we know about this topic, considering the number of acres of crops planted in Indiana each year."

In his research with saflufenacil, Johnson said the herbicide is less soluble at a low pH.

"It's similar to what happens when you put too much sugar in a glass of tea," he said. "The granules are then harder for plants to absorb."

With spray water at a high pH, the molecules in saflufenacil break apart, turning the herbicide into a different compound altogether.

The high mineral content of hard water makes it more difficult for plants to take up the compounds through their tissues because the minerals bind to the herbicide, Johnson said.

Water sources in Indiana tend to have higher iron content, bringing pH levels lower. Further west in the Corn Belt, water sources can have higher pH values because there is more sodium.

Growers can buy test kits for both pH and hardness, and there are pH adjuster treatments to neutralize spray water. Hard water issues can sometimes be corrected by adding ammonium sulfate.

"Producers also need to read their herbicide labels and understand which water conditions they need to avoid," Johnson said.

More information on spray water quality, testing and solutions to hardness and high pH values are available in the Purdue Extension publication "The Impact of Water Quality on Pesticide Performance." The publication, number PPP-86, is available for free download at Purdue Extension's Education Store at <http://www.the-education-store.com>. Additionally there are a limited number of free copies of this publication available at the Huntington County Extension Office.

RIVERDANCE AT HONEYWELL

Due to popular demand, a second Riverdance performance has been added when the internationally known dance group, presented by Wabash Valley Music Association, arrives in Wabash. The two performances are scheduled for Thurs., March 22 at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Few shows have touched audiences like Riverdance. A celebration of Irish music, song and dance, the show focuses on the evolution of Irish dance and its similarities with, and influences on, other cultures. The phenomenon of Riverdance draws on Irish traditions and combines the richness of the music with the magic and sensuality of the dance.

Riverdance was originally conceived as a spectacular seven-minute intermission entertainment for the 1994 Eurovision Song Contest televised throughout Europe to an audience of over 300 million viewers. Following the success of that performance, producer Moya Doherty, composer Bill Whelan, and director John McColgan, expanded the piece into a full-length stage production.

Riverdance had its world premiere at the Point Theatre, Dublin, in February, 1995, where it opened to unanimous critical acclaim. The show has taken the world by storm and to date, over 22 million people world-wide have seen Riverdance live. In addition, 10 million people have purchased video versions of the show, making it one of the best-selling entertainment videos in the world.

LIFE IS SWEET

Helping to save a life is a little sweeter during the American Red Cross' Life is Sweet Blood Drive in February. Come to donate February 14th and 15th at the Fort Wayne and Lutheran Hospital Donor Centers and receive a Cookie Cottage cookie. You'll also be entered to win one of three great prizes: two tickets to the Kenny Chesney & Tim McGraw concert on July 28th at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis, a one hundred dollar gift certificate to Cork 'N Cleaver with a one night stay in a suite at Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott of Fort Wayne, or a Cookie Cottage gift basket filled with delicious goodies. These prizes are sweet treats that could be shared with your loved ones after showing your love of life this Valentine's Day by donating blood.

Concert tickets are compliments of U.S. 93.3. The Kenny Chesney and Tim McGraw tour, 'Brothers of the Sun,' will be the first time in 10 years that Chesney and McGraw have hit the road together. The concert also features special guests Grace Potter & The Nocturnals and Jake Owen.

The Life is Sweet Blood Drive will take place at two convenient locations in Fort Wayne:

Fort Wayne Donor Center: (across from the Memorial Coliseum) - Tuesday, Feb. 14th & Wednesday, Feb. 15th: 11 a.m. – 6 p.m.

Lutheran Hospital Donor Center: (in the South Lobby of Lutheran Hospital) - Tuesday, Feb. 14th & Wednesday, Feb. 15th: noon – 6 p.m.

"Your Valentine's Day donation, at the Life is Sweet Blood Drive, can help offset the slump in blood collections we typically see in the heart of winter," said Sharyn Whitman, CEO for the Indiana-Ohio Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross. "Hospital patients need blood every day. Keeping donations steady and consistent can be hard when cold and snowy weather can affect your motivation to get out and give."

You can help save lives and enjoy sweet treats at this year's Life is Sweet Blood Drive. Make your appointment today to give blood, and ask your Valentine to donate, too. To schedule your blood donation appointment, call 1-800-RED CROSS or visit redcrossblood.org.
