TWELVE ANGRY MEN

Opens at the Pulse September 8

A 19-year-old man has just stood trial for the fatal stabbing of his father. "He doesn't stand a chance," mutters the guard as the 12 jurors are taken into the bleak jury room. It looks like an open-and-shut case until one of the jurors begins opening the others' eyes to the facts.

"This is a remarkable thing about democracy," says the foreign-born juror, "that we are notified by mail to come down to this place and decide on the guilt or innocence of a person; of a man or woman we have not known before. We have nothing to gain or lose by our verdict. We should not make it a personal thing."

But personal it is, with each juror revealing his or her own character as the various testimonies are re-examined, the murder is re-enacted and a new murder threat is born before their eyes! Tempers get short, arguments grow heated, and the jurors become 12 angry men.

The jurors' final verdict and how they reach it in tense scenes that will keep you the edge of your seat add up to a fine, mature piece of dramatic literature.

Performances are September 8, 9, 10, 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, 24.

Tickets are $15 for general admission and $5 for children 12 and under. Friday and Saturday shows are at 8:00 p.m.

Sunday shows are at 4:00 p.m. Reservations may be made online at www.pulseoperahouse.org or by leaving a message at 260-375-7017.

MOVIN' ON UP

Do you know someone who is frustrated with where they are in life and wants to change things, but doesn't know where to start? Movin' On Up is a series that starts on September 26, 2017 to provide opportunities to learn new skills, explore careers, set goals, talk about money, learn about yourself and make new connections in the community. It is free and a light meal is provided. We will meet every Tuesday from 5:00pm-7:30pm from September 26-December 12, 2017. Past graduates from the program say:

It fills in life skills gaps that they failed to teach in high school.

It will help you figure out what you are doing with all your money, help with job placement skills, and learning about who you are.

It's a great way to learn about the resources and listen to others who maybe in the same situation or have been.

Not just about money - an opportunity to improve your life any way you want.

You learn more about yourself, goal setting, budgeting, finances, and nutrition as well as getting resources and meeting new people.

Together we will explore careers and educational opportunities, create spending plans and set goals.

If you or someone you know may be interested, contact Karen Hinshaw at Purdue Extension Huntington County for more information at kdhinsha@purdue.edu or 260-358-4826.

PERSNICKETY PEOPLE MAY NEED A GOOD DOSE OF WORM MEDICINE

An old hunter had taken his tattered hound to the vet for a checkup. As they sat among the well-groomed house dogs waiting their turn in the exam room, a woman holding a poodle in her lap sneered at the old gentleman.

"Keep your dog away from me," she scolded. "I feel a flea on my leg."

"Get over here, Ranger," the man said to his hound. "That woman has fleas."

That old joke got a whole lot funnier to me last week after my daughter Mary, the other journalist in the family, took her old Treeing Walker hound, Giz, to the vet. Giz is 10 years old now. His once handsome red head is now gray with age. He's got more than his share of scars from years of chasing raccoons. His ears have been tattered by thorns and barbed wire. He has a peculiar walk, the remnant of spending one entire winter paralyzed from the neck down after being bitten by a raccoon that carried some strange virus.

So, there was Mary and Ol' Giz in Dr. Rudolph Ousley's office. It was a sight to behold. And, by the way, they couldn't have been treated any better. No highfalutin folks worried about fleas. Just good people.

Unfortunately, we've all met those who feel superior to others – and even to their dogs. The Bible makes clear that our Lord isn't pleased with that kind of attitude.

"My brothers, show no partiality" (James 2:1-1).

The Book of James says a poor man in shabby clothing should be treated just as well as a rich man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing.

Jesus further simplified things for us, as He often did during his public ministry here on earth.

"A new commandment I give to you," Jesus said, "that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another" (John 13:34).

This world would be such a wonderful place if everyone would follow that commandment from Jesus. Everyone deserves to be treated kindly. But, the fact is, there are rude people in this world who seem to have no understanding of this simple Christian principle.

Perhaps the best way to deal with such folks is to show them as much kindness as we can muster, and hope that it might rub off on them.

We might be tempted to follow the example of the old hunter who put the persnickety woman in her place, but we just need to realize that something may be going on their lives that makes them ill tempered.

Maybe a bad case of worms?

MEDICATION ASSISTANCE

Whether it's antibiotics for a sudden illness, or certain medications to manage a chronic health condition, being able to afford medicines can sometimes be challenging. For Huntington County residents needing assistance with necessary medications, the Free Health Clinic used to be an option.
With the closure of the clinic earlier this year, though, resources became much thinner.

Starting in September, a new source of help will be available. The Parkview Medication Assistance Program, or MAP, serves as a link between the patient, the healthcare provider, and pharmaceutical manufacturers for the purpose of providing prescription medications to uninsured or underinsured patients in need.

How the program works

MAP is a free service, and representatives will be available through Parkview Huntington Hospital. Patients who need assistance with prescription medication costs can apply to Parkview MAP through these representatives, who draw on pharmaceutical assistance programs through drug manufacturers, as well as product replacement and co-pay assistance programs.

The idea, explains Chelsea Johnson, medication assistance coordinator, is to connect people with resources that can help improve their situation: "We try to give them more options, to offer other avenues that they weren't aware of before, such as manufacturer programs, or prescription coupons, or even recommendations on pharmacies that have the lowest prices. We want to find at least some piece of information that could help them."

Anette Lane, MD, Parkview
Physicians Group – Family Medicine, Huntington, is the former medical director of the Huntington County Free Health Clinic. She notes that there is a tremendous need for this kind of support:
"There are so many people who don't really know where to turn for guidance when they find they can't cover the cost of their medications. Parkview Huntington understood that and stepped in to make sure this service could be available for people who are having a tough time."

Trying to keep people healthier

Johnson and Jennifer Matson, MAP supervisor, assist people who need medication help for any of a variety of reasons. "Some patients we talk to have worked all their lives and are retired, and they're embarrassed to ask for help, but they're struggling to make ends meet," says Johnson. "Others have lost their jobs, or they have a family member with cancer and can't afford the costs of treatment. Maybe a parent is working two jobs but has no insurance, or there's a gap in Medicaid. If their child becomes ill and needs an expensive antibiotic, they're faced with the question of how to afford it."

Matson and Johnson have also helped people in a bind because they've just moved to the state, or they're living on Social Security or Disability with a stipend that can't absorb the extra costs of treating an injury or illness. They often encounter people who have chronic medical conditions but can't afford their maintenance medication and are taking smaller, ineffective doses to stretch their prescription. Matson and Johnson – who are both pharmacy technicians by training – especially want to help prevent multiple hospital stays for these people who could be at home and healthier if they could just afford their full medication doses.

Typically, physicians and hospital staff members refer patients to the Parkview MAP, but patients may also call directly. Eligibility is based on income and other criteria. The program is supported by funding from Parkview Huntington
Hospital and Parkview Huntington Foundation.
Most of the time, the MAP team works with patients via phone and mail, but patients may make appointments for in-person meetings.

Beginning in September, Matson will be available at Parkview Huntington
Hospital from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays, and Johnson will be available at the hospital on Fridays during the same hours. For information, call 260-266-4542 or 260-248-9263.

Auditorium. Nearly 100 musicians will perform this concert presented in collaboration with the Taylor and IWU Symphony Orchestras. This concert is open to the public and free of charge.

A subscription series of four concerts will follow including Opening Night, "Musical Postcards," at the Rediger Chapel Auditorium, Taylor University on Friday, October 20, 2017, "Christmas Jubilee" at First United Methodist Church, Marion on Saturday, December 9, 2017, "Beethoven Lives Upstairs!" at Rediger Chapel Auditorium, Taylor University on Saturday, March 3, 2018, and the Season Finale, "Night at the Opera," at the Philippe PAC, IWU on Saturday, April 21, 2018.

Among the guest artists featured this season are violinist Hasun Yoo, vocalists Steve Amerson, Lisa Dawson, Tammie Huntington, Keith Brautigam, and Troy Castle, Playhouse Studio of Dance dancers, and the IWU Chorale.

As a community orchestra for patrons of the Grant County area, the MPO partners with generous donors each year to provide rich musical and educational experiences. This past season, the MPO engaged more than 1700 young people in its programming throughout concert attendance, production assistance, performance opportunities and internships.

Since it began in 1969, the orchestra has evolved from a group of local volunteer musicians into a professional symphony that features the finest musicians in the state, in the most beautiful and intimate venues in the county.

Howard Lee, Executive Director of Marion Philharmonic Orchestra, said, "this will truly be an MPO 'Season to Remember'! Concert goers will see a 'new face' to the MPO. The three conductor candidates

ARCHAEOLOGY MONTH

This September, Indiana will host events for all ages as part of the 22nd annual statewide celebration of archaeology.

Archaeology Month is an opportunity to learn about the scientific study of historic or prehistoric peoples and their culture in Indiana. Hoosier history buffs can meet archaeologists and learn about the state's past.

Events are held every September by universities, museums, organizations and individuals throughout Indiana. The DNR Division of Historic Preservation & Archaeology (DHPA) coordinates Archaeology Month.

This year's commemorative Archaeology Month poster focuses on Eli Lilly's archaeological legacy.

"While many know of Lilly because of his family's pharmaceutical company, he played a huge role in early archaeology in our state," said Amy Johnson, State Archaeologist with DHPA.

This year marks 40 years since Lilly's death, and the 80th anniversary of the publication of his book "Prehistoric Antiquities of Indiana."

A schedule of events and additional information for Archaeology Month is at dnr.IN.gov/historic.

Archaeologists have recorded more than 66,600 sites in Indiana since the early 1800s, helping to shape public understanding of the prehistoric and historic people.

"Archaeology can be a fascinating way to learn about our past and how it influences our culture today," said Cameron Clark, DNR director and State Historic Preservation Officer. "Archaeology Month is a chance for Hoosiers to engage in programs that are not only educational and informative but also fun."

Celebrating archaeology statewide started in 1996 with Indiana Archaeology Week. In 2002, the celebration was expanded to Indiana Archaeology Month.

Commemorative posters and shirts are available. Shirts are $8 each and can be purchased from the DNR Customer Service Center at (317) 232-4200 or toll-free at (877) 463-6367.

SENIOR LUNCHEON

People age 50 and older are invited to the monthly Senior Monday Carry-in Luncheon, Sept. 11, at Salamonie Interpretive Center, in Lost Bridge West State Recreation Area, Andrews.

Guest speaker Dani Tippman, a citizen of the Miami Tribe of Oklahoma, will explain the uses of plants in traditional Myaamia lifeways, culture and history. Her knowledge of plants comes from tribal members and elders, including her mother. The presentation is part of the Arts in the Parks 2017 Miami Harvest Project.

The program begins with a carry-in meal at noon. A main dish of chicken, broccoli, and rice casserole will be provided. Guests should bring a side dish to share, a beverage and their own table service.

A $1 donation will be accepted. Reservations may be made by calling (260) 468-2127.

Standard entrance fees of $7 per in-state vehicle and $9 per out-of-state vehicle will apply.

Salamonie Interpretive Center (stateparks.IN.gov/2952.htm) is located at Salamonie Lake, 3691 S New Holland Rd., Andrews, IN 46702.

READING WINNERS

Summer reading has wrapped up at Warren Public Library and the grand prize winners have been named. For each review the youth filled out for a book they read, they earned an entry for a grand prize. The adult summer reading program consisted of a Book Bingo card and everyone who completed 6 or more rows had their name entered into the prize drawing. Pictured above are youth winners Kaleb Morris and Jarrod Sprinkle.

BACKPACK DONATION

The Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Ossian recently presented a check for $1,100 to the Feeding Tomorrow's Future Today weekend food packs for hungry kids.

The donation was generated by proceeds of the Bethlehem Fish Fry held at Lighted Gardens at the end of April. The 4-H Association is the not-for-profit group that coordinates and funds the backpack program.
