ENCOURAGES SAFE

TRAVEL

The Governor's Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving and the Traffic Safety division of the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute (ICJI) announced Thursday that a statewide enforcement crackdown will go into effect on Saturday, November 11, and continue through Saturday, November 25.

The enforcement crackdown will be supported through an existing partnership between the Governor's Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving and local and state law enforcement agencies. Participating agencies will place additional officer's on the streets who will work overtime to enforce Indiana's impaired driving and seat belt laws over the Thanksgiving holiday season.

"Unfortunately the period between Thanksgiving and New Year's is one of the deadliest and most dangerous times of the year. We plan to leverage the burst of holiday excitement by boosting awareness and compliance as it relates to seat belt usage and driving under the influence. The goal of these enforcement activities is to strongly urge Hoosiers to make smart and safe decisions," said Mike Cunegin, executive director of the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute.

According to reports submitted from local agencies to ICJI in 2005, Indiana had approximately 700 people killed in highway crashes resulting from their failure to use safety restraints or involving an impaired driver with an illegal (.08) blood alcohol concentration.

"We will be out in force conducting sobriety checkpoints, saturation patrols and using undercover officers to get drunk drivers off the road," said Indiana State Police Superintendent Paul Whitesell, "We want everyone to play it safe and always designate a sober driver or find alternate transportation."

This enforcement crackdown will coincide with a statewide media campaign scheduled from November 8 - November 22. The primary messages promoted in this campaign will be "Click It or Ticket," and "Drunk Driving - Over The Limit Under Arrest."

Research has shown that when combined, high visibility enforcement and a strong media message lead to higher seat belt usage rates and a reduction in alcohol-related crash fatalities. The statewide (radio and television) media campaign will especially target the worst areas in rural southern & northern Indiana where a higher amount of people are killed (respectively) in accidents that drive unrestrained and/or impaired.

"Driving irresponsibly is simply not worth the risk. Violators will be spending their money on tickets, bail, court, lawyers and towing fees instead of spending their time with loved ones. So don't take the chance. Buckle up, don't drink and drive and follow the posted speed limits," said Ryan Klitzsch, Traffic Safety division director.

The Governor's Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving serves as the public opinion catalyst and the implementing body for statewide action to reduce death and injury on Indiana roadways. The Council provides grant funding, training, coordination and ongoing support to state and local traffic safety advocates.

MEDICARE D HELP

Prescription coverage for people with Medicare started in January, but more than 3 million Americans - and over 74,000 Hoosiers — with limited income and resources did not enroll in a plan. The federal government recently announced that those who qualify for the Extra Help through the Medicare Prescription Drug Coverage (also called Medicare Part D) can continue to sign up for a Medicare drug plan without penalty until the end of 2006.

The Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging (IAAAA), part of the national Access to Benefits Coalition, today announced a renewed effort to help people with Medicare - seniors and younger persons with disabilities - find out if they qualify for Medicare's Extra Help. As part of this effort, people with Medicare will receive free and confidential assistance with applying for Extra Help, as well as assistance with choosing the Medicare prescription drug plan that works best for them.

"People who qualify for the extra help through Medicare Prescription Drug Coverage can get 85 to 100 percent of their costs covered, including premiums - with no coverage gap - by Medicare," said Melissa Durr, Chief Executive Officer of IAAAA. "We want to be sure that everyone who qualifies knows about this opportunity and that we find and help to enroll them in the prescription plan that makes sense for them."

Area Agencies on Aging help people with Medicare find out if they qualify for the Extra Help and enroll in the prescription coverage that makes sense for them. Using sophisticated web-based technology such as BenefitsCheckUpRx (found at www.BenefitsCheckUpRx.org), the Area Agencies on Aging plan to provide one-on-one counseling and enrollment assistance to the area's Medicare beneficiaries with limited incomes and resources. The Area Agencies on Aging will also sponsor events in the local area to continue educating beneficiaries and others in the community about the Extra Help program.

The Access to Benefits Coalition helps seniors and younger people with disabilities get access to the prescription coverage they need, including the Extra Help available from Medicare. The coalition includes more than 100 national members and hundreds more community-based organizations in 44 coalitions in 33 states and the District of Columbia.

In addition to providing Medicare beneficiaries, their families and caregivers with free and confidential hands-on assistance in signing up for this new benefit, Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging is encouraging the community organizations who serve this population to visit the website www.AccessToBenefits.org to get involved in the coalition and to learn how to use the powerful decision-support tools. Contact your local Area Agency on Aging at 1-800-986-3505 for more information.

The Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging, founded in 1978, advocates for quality programs and services for older adults and all persons with disabilities. The IAAAA works with all the state's 16 Area Agencies of Aging.

The Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) were created by state statute in 1973 to deliver services under the Older Americans Act. AAAs are not-for-profit entities providing services to older adults and people with disabilities of any age and their caregivers.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

FILLING RAOK

Today as I gassed up at Subway, a gentleman at the next pump offered to clean my windshield. I politely refused and proceeded to do so. When he came back out of the store, he extended a cash register receipt showing he had paid for my purchase and it was not a small amount. Although I thanked him, I am hoping he will read these words to realize what his gift has meant. I shared my story with countless people and each one responded with words of pleasure to know there is still so much beauty in the hearts of people despite the ugliness that surrounds us. Thank you for bringing that blessed hope to so many hearts with your gift of love.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

November 13-17 is Winter Weather Preparedness Week in Indiana.

Indiana Governor Mitch Daniels has declared November 13 through 17 Indiana Winter Weather Preparedness Week, and the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) is urging all Hoosier drivers to use this week to prepare their vehicles for the season and brush up on winter driving strategies.

Winter storms can be extremely dangerous for Hoosier motorists and INDOT workers if everyone on Indiana roads doesn't use safe driving strategies. According to the National Weather Service, 11 of 17 winter weather related deaths occur in motor vehicles. The majority of those deaths could have been prevented if the traveler was aware of road conditions and prepared for the worst.

INDOT is asking every Hoosier motorist to practice safe winter driving during winter storms this season. By slowing down, giving plows room to work and allowing extra time to get to your destination; we can save lives this winter on Indiana highways. Drivers should ready their vehicles for winter, assemble a winter driving survival kit and review the driving tips below to prepare for a safe winter:

Driver's Checklist

* Get your vehicle ready: Don't wait for winter to have your battery, belts, hoses, radiator, oil, lights, brakes, exhaust system, heater/defroster and ignition system checked.

* Pay attention to the tires: Worn and damaged tires hamper your ability to drive safely - have them checked or replaced before winter, and check tire air pressure frequently throughout the winter.

* Check weather and travel conditions before heading out: Don't take chances if the weather is bad. Allow yourself extra time for travel, or wait for conditions to improve.

Winter Driving Survival Kit

Your kit should include: Ice scraper / snowbrush, Shovel, Sand or other traction aid, Tow rope or chain, Booster cables, Road flares or warning lights, Gas line antifreeze, Flashlight and batteries, First aid kit, Fire extinguisher, Small tool kit, Extra clothing and footwear, Non-perishable energy foods (granola bars, dried fruit, water), Candle and small tin can, Matches

Before Heading Out

* Plan your route: If you are traveling a long distance, plan ahead. Let someone know of your destination and expected arrival time.

* Wear comfortable clothing: Clothes should not restrict your movement while at the wheel. Keep warm clothing for getting out of your vehicle.

* Clear snow and ice: from all windows, lights, mirrors and the roof. After starting your vehicle, wait for the fog to clear from the interior windows.

* Check your vehicle: Make sure your vehicle is mechanically ready for winter and keep your gas tank at least half full.

* Carry a cell phone: If you have a cell phone, take it with you. Save it for use only in emergencies so you don't drain the battery.

RED CROSS URGES

CAUTION

As temperatures start to dip across the country, the American Red Cross urges families to be cautious when using space heaters and other heating sources and to plan ahead for the possibility of a home fire. Home heating fires increase during the late fall and winter months, and portable heating fires are more deadly than others. A recent Red Cross poll found that nearly half of American families use heating alternatives such as a space heater, fireplace or wood/coal stove to stay warm.

Fires kill more Americans each year than all natural disasters combined, and the Red Cross urges families to develop a fire escape plan and to take steps toward fire prevention and safety. To prevent heating related fires, the Red Cross recommends keeping all potential fuel sources, including newspapers, matches, bedding and clothing, at least three feet away from heat sources such as a space heaters, fireplaces and wood stoves. In addition, portable heaters and fireplaces should never be left unattended. Read and follow the manufacturer's instructions on how, when, and where to safely use heating equipment, such as space heaters and wood stoves.

"Every year in Huntington County, home fires are the single most common disaster threat", said James Griffith, Chapter Executive. "In fact, our Chapter responded to 16 structure fires last year here in Huntington County, and provided 12 families with immediate emergency assistance."

"The good news is that preparing for a home fire doesn't require a lot of expensive equipment or training," stated Griffith. "In addition to functioning smoke alarms, one of the easiest ways to prepare is to develop and practice a home fire escape plan so that every family member, including young children and the elderly, can escape quickly and safely."

Fire escape plans include at least two exit routes for every room in the home and a convenient meeting place at a safe distance from the fire. Escape ladders should be used and stored near windows in floors above ground level, and all family members should know how to locate and use the ladders safely.

Families should practice their escape plan at least twice a year.

Every year the Huntington County Chapter provides fire victims with assistance for food, clothing, prescription medications, temporary shelter and other special needs an affected family might have. This relief is made possible by generous donations from people throughout Huntington County.

For more Red Cross fire safety and preparedness information please visit www.redcross.org/homefires.

Simple Tips to Prevent Home Heating Fires

Keep all potential fuel sources (newspapers, matches, bedding, clothing, carpets and rugs) at least three feet away from heat sources, such as space heaters, fireplaces and stoves.

Provide constant adult supervision in rooms with lit candles or fires.

Keep fire in the fireplace by using glass or metal fire screens. Never leave a fire in the fireplace unattended. Extinguish the fire before going to bed or leaving the house.

Never use a cooking range or oven to heat your home.

Turn off portable space heaters every time you leave the room or go to sleep.

Have wood and coal stoves, fireplaces, and chimneys inspected annually by a professional and cleaned if necessary.

If you must use space heaters, place them on a level, hard and nonflammable surface (such as ceramic tile floor), not on rugs or carpets or near bedding or drapes. Keep children and pets away from space heaters.

HOME CARE AND HOSPICE MONTH

In 2005, over 110,000 Hoosiers received home care services in their home. These services included skilled care from registered nurses, therapists, and social workers. Hoosiers also received assistance with activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing, housekeeping, and meal preparation. Though the majority receiving care were over sixty-five (68,000), 11,000 were under twenty-five. Because of home care, these Hoosiers were able to remain where everyone wants to be...in one's own home.

While home care allows individuals to maintain health and independence, hospice provides supportive care at the end of one's life. Hospice allows the dying to maintain quality of life until death and gives comfort and assistance to the patient's family after death. In 2005, 18,000 patients and families received hospice services.

The Indiana Association for Home & Hospice Care (IAHHC) has been representing home healthcare, hospice, and personal services providers of Indiana since 1978. IAHHC members truly believe that home health, hospice, and home supportive services are only possible because of the caregivers and support staff that daily provides skilled, professional, caring services to the disabled, acutely and terminally ill, and elderly residents of Indiana. In the heat of July or the snow of February, these individuals make the difference in the lives of Hoosiers. Many patients cannot remember the name of the home care agency or hospice that is providing services; but the patient and family always remember the name of the homemaker, companion, home health aide, LPN, scheduler, therapist, or RN.

During National Home Care and Hospice Month, the Indiana Association for Home & Hospice Care members believe that it is important to celebrate the dedication of the thousand of home care and hospice caregivers and to honor the 130,000 individuals and families which have received home care and hospice services. For more information, including a listing of home care and hospice providers in your area, please visit www.ind-homecare.org or www.ltcindiana.info.

COMMUNITY DAY

Linda Hollenbaugh called the roll with 48 present from 14 participating churches. Central Christian Church received the attendance banner with 8 present. Norma Kitt gave a devotional reading about fall and the harvest, also a reading about God's creation.

Church World Service still needs some supplies and money to send Health Kits. Some items still needed are hand towels, combs, bar of soap, Adult toothbrush, Tube of toothpaste and the greatest needs are metal nail file, or nail clipper with nail file attached and processing funds.

Faith Community Church women were hostesses and there were 15 present from their church. The program, "Signs of Healing," was led by Arlene Farlow and assisted by Johanna Lange, Marlene Hamilton, Sandy Webb, Sylvia McHenry, and Janice Hanson. Evelyn Wohlford was the pianist for the program. Women joined together to sing, "Breathe on Me Breathe Of God," "This Little Light," and "To God Be the Glory." The meeting was closed with the women holding hands and forming a rainbow shape to remind us of God's promises.

SPIDER FUN

Sixteen children were at the Van Buren Public Library after school story time on Friday November 3rd. The theme was Spider Fun, and boy, did we have fun.

Jody Heaston was our special guest and she brought along her two daughters Cora and Emmy.

Jody had three baby food jars and within the baby food jars were spiders she and Cora caught at home. The children smiled as the spiders were passed around. Jody shared information about different kinds of spiders. We found out that a spider has two parts to their body and have eight legs and a couple of other that look like legs but are used for hands. They can also have up to eight eyes. Spiders can bite and they leave two small dots. We are very thankful that we don't have poison spiders around.

Jody had fun things for the children to do. They were able to draw a web and make a spider out of a balloon and sing a song. Candy and plastic spiders were given as prizes.

The library staff wants to thank Jody for sharing with the children. We also want to thank Amy Smith for helping with our story time.

Refreshments were popcorn and lemon aid.

Those attending were Jacob Clupper, Autumn Smith, Ashley Kerr, Amy Kerr, Kaylee Morgan, Emilee Morgan, Emilee Henning, Autumn Harmon, Jarren Griffith, Jill Nevel, Rose Nevel, Nixon Smith, Olivia Bryant, Elizabeth Bryant, Bethany Holmar and Kaley Kitts.

Next After School Story time will be November 17th. We will have a Thanksgiving Celebration. Hope to see you.

"Yes, I'm a nurse, but I'm a mom first."

Brenda Benter, mom, RN

My daughter was recently hospitalized at Bluffton Regional. Courtney has stayed at several other hospitals, but the experience at Bluffton Regional surpassed any of the others. The staff always made us feel like we were the only family in the unit. Their positive attitude and compassion made such a difference.

While I am greatly pleased at the level of care given to my daughter, I am not surprised by it. You see, I am a nurse at Bluffton Regional. And every day I strive to make sure that I treat patients and their families the same way my family was treated. My philosophy as a caregiver is to provide quality, compassionate care to every patient I encounter. And as a mom, that's exactly how I want my family to be treated.

GET COOKING

By purchasing the Wells County Public Library's new cookbook, "A cookie by any other name...", you will get more than 125 tried-and-true cookie recipes, a guide to wonderful books, and a whole sink of dirty dishes.

Alas, the library doesn't do dishes. But, the library is the place to find wonderful books. And is there anything better than a great cookie paired with a great book? Okay, world peace would be pretty great too...but this is just a cookbook. Let's try to keep this on a culinary scale of greatness.

"A cookie by any other name..." is a collection of recipes with a literary twist. It started as a simple cookie baking contest held at the library this summer. Participants were to make their favorite cookie and name it after a fictional book character. The cookies were judged by taste and a short written essay explaining their choice of name. Staff judges declared the winners were: 1) Fancheon Resler with Charlotte's Webbed Blackberry Bars; 2) Katherine Runyon's Nancy Drew Drop Cookies; 3) and Veronica Runyon's Babe the Blue Ox Pancake Cookies.

All of the entries were then combined with recipes from library staff and supporters for this colorful collection of: Drop Cookies, Rolled & Shaped Cookies, Bar Cookies, and a miscellaneous section aptly called, The Crumbs.

So, why not bake up a batch of 'Screaming Shrews' for the club ladies? Or, make some mighty 'Tighty Whities' for the football team? Most kids would love to help crush, smash and pummel potato chips for crispy 'Chipapaloozas'. And a plate of delicate 'Good Night Moons' are just right for a bedtime snack.

"A cookie by any other name..." would make a great Christmas gift for anyone on your list. The cost is $5. Copies of the cookbook will be sold at the main library and both branches until supplies run out. For more information, contact the Wells County Public Library at 260-824-1612.

RECIPES

Cherry Ames Chocolates - By Teresa Dustman (staff)

Cherry Ames: Nurse series, by Helen Wells. The crime-solving nurse was our heroine in the 60s. But, could she make a great chocolate cherry cookie?

½ c. butter or margarine, soft
1 c. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. baking soda
1 egg
1 ½ tsp. vanilla
1 ½ c. flour
½ c. cocoa
10oz. maraschino cherries, well drained (save 4 tsp. of juice)
1 c. chocolate chips

½ c. Eagle Brand Milk

Beat butter in large bowl for 30 seconds. Beat in sugar, salt, baking powder, baking soda. Beat in egg and vanilla until combined. Gradually beat in flour and cocoa. Shape dough into 1" balls (or use a cookie scoop) and place on ungreased cookie sheet. Press a thumbprint into each ball. Place a cherry into the indentation. In a small saucepan, combine chocolate chips and Eagle Brand Milk; heat until melted. Stir in cherry juice. Spoon about a teaspoon of chocolate over each cherry, spreading to cover. Bake at 350-degrees for about 10 minutes. Cool on rack. 4 doz.

Tweedledums & Tweedledees By Judy Maxwell (staff)

Through the Looking-Glass and What Alice Found There, by Lewis Carroll. Double chocolate cookies that are doubly rich in flavor.

1 lb. semi-sweet chocolate, melted
½ c. Dutch cocoa powder
2 c. flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt

10 tbsp. unsalted butter

1 ½ c. brown sugar

½ c. sugar

4 eggs

2 tsp. instant coffee granules

2 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in coffee granules, vanilla and melted chocolate. Mix dry ingredients and stir into butter mixture just until it comes together. Cover and let set for 35 minutes. Shape into walnut-size balls. Place 2" apart onto pan lined with parchment paper. Bake 350-degrees for 8-10 minutes. Centers will be very soft. Cool 10 minutes in pan before moving to wire racks. GingerSnaps - By Amy Greiner (staff)

Harry Potter series, by J.K. Rowling. Hogwarts' Professor Snape would be furious to have such a sweet, tender cookie named after him.

Cream until fluffy:

¾ c. shortening, 1 c. brown sugar, ¼ c. molasses, 1 egg

Sift together and stir into creamed mixture:

2 ½ c. flour

2 tsp. baking soda,

½ tsp. salt

1 tsp. ginger

1 tsp. cinnamon

In 1940 the new Savory Theater, next to the bank, opened and the name was changed to the Warren Theater. It was built and owned by Jessie and Clair Stucky. It was an ultra modern theater of which Warren was proud of. A small business room was on each side and in the middle was the theater entrance. Behind the business rooms was a spacious foyer, carpeted and furnished with leather covered chairs. At either end of the foyer were two arched entrances into the auditorium.

The building was equipped with a later type heating and air conditioning plant. For cooling the auditorium in summer the air was blown through a fine spray of water and then forced through large ducts into the auditorium. The same blower and ducts were utilized for heating in winter except that the air was blown through steamed heated radiators.

The first movie was "Rhythm on the River" starring Bing Crosby and Mary Martin. Admission, for matinees were ten cents and twenty cents. The theater had a good run but due to small crowds the Warren Theater closed for good on September 21, 1957. The last movie shown was "The Spirit of St. Louis." The Warren Theater building was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams, who moved the Gamble Store there.
