KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

A LETTER FROM PRESIDENT TEDDY ROOSEVELT TO 21ST CENTURY AMERICA

Dear America:

As 26th President of the United States let me offer a few insights on your 21st century problems.

Let me remind you that we had Robber Barons in my day, just as you have now. They had different names, of course, J.P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, and Edward H. Harriman, but their attitudes were the same. They wanted to build fiefdoms and if they had to do it on the dry bones of fired or underpaid employees, so be it.

So what should you do now almost one hundred years later? Well, for openers stop making speeches and start doing the kind of things I did. I sued forty-three corporations who were out of line. Set up a Bureau of Corporations with powers to inspect the books of all businesses engaged in interstate commerce. Revived the all but forgotten Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Indeed, it's time to make more of those guilty of white collar crimes wear prison gray.

Your problem is your leadership pays too much attention to polls. There is no doubt that I had a big mouth, and used it. That I believed in the bully pulpit and would today make it loud and clear that business leadership will not be allowed to sup at the public trough whenever and however they please.

I call on your 21st century Americans to find some old fashion ethics, and go after those who are breaking them. I did. Went after some judges bribed by a man named Jay Gould. Though I gave it my all I still lost, but did that stop me next time around? Not in a thousand years. Because in losing, I made it clear that when you did wrong Teddy Roosevelt would soon be banging on your front door.

Remember the Armour Meat Packing Company. Well, one day its founder and owner P. D. Armour, because his employees in a certain department had done such a wonderful job, decided he would offer each of them a new suit. In order to take advantage of such a generous offer, one young man ordered a suit costing $150, a very healthy sum at this particular point in history. Receiving the

VB COUNCIL

On Wednesday evening, April 14 the Van Buren Town Council met in the Council Room at Town Hall. At 7 p.m. President Tony Manry called the meeting to order. All in attendance repeated the Pledge to the American Flag.

On May 1 Swayzee Telephone Cable will take over cable service in Van Buren. The town had previously been served by Longview Cable Company.

Officer Pat Collins gave his report. He presented quotes for radar and hand guns. He will ask for a grant through Round Robins before a decision is made.

The Eastbrook Band will hold a car wash May 1 from 10a.m. to 1p.m. at the Fire Station.

Town Clean Up is scheduled for April 30 and May 1.

Town Rummage Sales will be June 11 and 12. Anyone wishing their name on a town directory should call the Clerk-Treasurer's office.

Occasionally, I see people with cameras, walking up and down Wayne Street, taking pictures of the signs painted on the brick store fronts. The person who painted these signs was an excellent sign painter, self taught, and did it without stencils. He would take a Myers Department Store yard stick and a piece of chalk, lay out and paint most of the signs you can see on the bricks today. The painter was Blaine Brelford.

Blaine was a shy boy growing up and at the age of 16 took his first drink. That first drink made him feel so good that he couldn't stop. He became an alcoholic. A lot of times he would be locked up in the town jail, like the lovable Otis on the Andy Griffith show. In later years, he had said he had never married, had no children, and never had a home, a car or any respect because of alcohol.

A few years ago, in the Museum, an older gentleman was telling about Blaine painting the Gold Seal Drug Store sign on the side of the building. He would go up the ladder, paint one letter, and then have to go to the Wagon Wheel for a drink. He would come back, paint another letter, and go for another drink. Four or five old timers setting across the street were making bets on which letter he would fall off the ladder, but he never did. Blaine's work lives on still on Warren's buildings. One of Warren's personalities that we won't forget.

COUNCIL NOTES

The April 14 meeting of the Warren Town Council was held in Assembly Hall. President Bill Cartwright opened the meeting at 6:30 p.m. All in attendance repeated the Pledge to the American Flag.

Bob Pond spoke on behalf of the Knight-Bergman Civic Center Board. They have applied for grants for improvements to the Center. Council agreed to be the Fiscal Agents.

One person has been cited for feeding feral cats. They have agreed to work on reducing the population of cats.

Jeff Souder was in attendance, representing HCUED. They are requesting additional funds in the amount of $4,000 per year from the Town, to hire an assistant in the office. Current amount from the Town is $1,700.

The town has been notified they will receive less from property tax. They will receive $42,000 less this year due to an appeal filed.

AT&T asked permission to work on the antennae on top of the water tower. Permission was granted.

Town Spring Clean Up will be May 3 to 8.

REAL ELEGANT DAMES

What a delightful day our Becky Parker arranged for us. We dined at the lovely Mecates (Mexican grill) in Huntington and enjoyed the exciting bill of fare. Freddie Couch was the recipient of birthday cards for her special day. We made many exciting plans for future events; adding a new venture for us, i.e., the Flower Show for our famed Salamonie Festival! The ladies enjoying today were Fritz Boxell, Dianna Bradford, Freddie Couch, Taya Decker (our only PINK hatter), Virginia Langdon, Lilly Nutter, Mary Palmer and our hostess, Becky Parker.

RED CROSS NEWS

The American Red Cross is excited to announce that a new law, Senate Bill 46, will encourage 16 year-olds to start a lifelong habit of donating blood. In the past, Indiana state law was silent on the issue of 16 year-old blood donations. This allowed the Red Cross and other blood centers to collect blood from 16 year-olds with written parental/guardian consent. Thirty states, including Ohio and Kentucky, already have written laws which specifically encourage 16 year-olds to donate blood. As a result, Sharyn Whitman, CEO for the Indiana-Ohio Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross, worked to see a similar law take effect in Indiana.

On Jan. 27, 2010, Whitman testified in front of the Senate Health Committee to show support for the bill. Indiana Governor Mitch Daniels signed Senate Bill 46 into law, after it passed in both the House and Senate. The law will go into effect on July 1, and will encourage 16 year-olds to donate blood with parental consent in the state of Indiana. This means that now even more high school students can help save a life by donating blood. The American Red Cross is excited to spread awareness that blood donation is something a 16-year-old student can do to make a difference in their community.

"The Red Cross is grateful to Senator David Long and Senator Patricia Miller for the work that they did to make this bill a reality," said Whitman. "Many of our committed donors began donating blood while they were in high school. As our donor base continues to age, it is important to educate the next group of young donors about the importance of a safe and stable blood supply."

If you are 16 years of age and would like to donate blood, simply log-on to redcrossblood.org to find out more information. Before donating, 16-year-olds must review a few materials and have a parent or guardian sign a written consent form. This written consent form must be brought with the 16-year-old to the blood drive or donor center. High school students and other donors YOUNGER THAN 19 YEARS also have to meet certain height and weight requirements. Please bring your Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive ID when you come to donate.

"Each participating child goes home with a prize. There are grand prizes for the largest fish caught and prizes for each of three age categories. Each child can win only one of these large prize packages, and all will receive other prizes for participating," said Marvin McNew, director of Upper Wabash Interpretive Services.

Children will be divided into age categories 2 to 5, 6 to 10, and 11 to 14 year olds. Prizes include fishing tackle, tackle boxes, fishing rods and reels, and many others. Current sponsors include Bozarth Recreational Resort, Wal-Mart, Bud's Fish' N Hole, Riverside Sporting Goods, Yohe Realty, and Huntington Metro Kiwanis. Call (260) 468-2127 to register for the derby of choice. Salamonie's Derby will be near the beach in the Lost Bridge West Recreation Area; Mississinewa's will be at the boat ramp in the Miami Recreation Area; and J. Edward Roush's Derby will be at the pond in the Little Turtle Recreation Area.

The standard entrance fee ($4/car Mon-Thurs; $5/car Fri-Sat-Sun; $7/car for out-of-state license plates) will be in effect when the gatehouse is open.

ACS SUMMER CAMP

With the school year winding down and summer quickly approaching, many children look forward to heading off to camp for a week of outdoor activities and fun with new friends. However, for children with cancer, health issues may make the experience of a week at camp seem impossible.

"Children with cancer face unique health issues that might prevent them from attending many summer camping programs," said Kathleen

Wilson, program manager of childhood cancers, American Cancer Society. "However, the American Cancer Society offers a camping program specifically geared toward accommodating the needs of children who are being treated for cancer, or who are in remission from cancer. Our camps provide the opportunity for these children to simply have fun and enjoy the experience of exercise, recreation and companionship through activities paced to meet the needs of a young cancer patient."

Cancer survivors between the ages of four and 15 years of age are invited to take part in one of two camping programs offered free of charge by the American Cancer Society, Great Lakes Division. Young Camper's Day is a one-day program offered for children four to six years old and will be held on Sunday, June 20. Camp Catch-A-Rainbow is a week-long summer camping experience, held June 20-25, for children between the ages of seven and 15. Both the Young Camper's Day and Camp Catch-A-Rainbow programs are held at the YMCA Storer Camps near Jackson, Mich., where children have access to activities such as swimming, horseback riding, canoeing, arts and crafts, and much more.

Health care professionals are available at the camp 24 hours a day, so most medical treatments, with the exception of radiation therapy, can be done onsite or at a nearby cancer center.

"The commitment of our volunteer doctors and nurses enable us to offer this unique camping experience, while ensuring the wellness of all of our campers who have unique health needs," said Wilson.

With a physician's approval, registration applications for young cancer patients and survivors from Indiana and Michigan are being accepted through May 28 for the Young Camper's Day and Camp Catch-A-Rainbow. Application forms can be obtained by calling 1-800-227-2345 or online at www.cancer.org/campinbow.

Camp Catch-A-Rainbow is accredited by the American Camping Association and is licensed through the state of Michigan. The American Cancer Society, Great Lakes Division, Inc., serving Indiana and Michigan, funds Young Camper's Day and Camp Catch-A-Rainbow. The camping program is just one of the many ways the American Cancer Society is able to save lives and create more birthdays by helping people stay well and get well, by finding cures, and by fighting back.

Additional medical and non-medical volunteers, especially male volunteers, are currently needed to assist onsite at Young Campers Day and Camp Catch-

HIDING BEHIND DOORS

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley
We have lived our lives not being able to open the door; you know that “can’t have anyone over syndrome” that has paralyzed us. We have other doors that we hide behind. It is perfectionism that keeps us huddled behind them in fear and shame. Remember that the opposite of love is fear.

I want for you what I have peace, and this peace came from loving me just the way I am. This means with all my warts and blemishes. Now this process of loving myself didn’t happen overnight. Just like your home is not going to get clean in a day. All my life I have been told (by my family) you have such a pretty face, if only you would lose some weight. Those if onlys and buts tend to negate the good that was said: Why couldn’t they just stop with the pretty face. Then at the same time, I was programmed with, “Pretty is as pretty does”: On one hand it is how I act and then almost in the same breath it was putting me down because of my physical appearance.

Learning to love myself was the hardest thing I ever did. In my perfectionism, I was self-conscious of the way I looked. So I hid behind baggy clothes (another door) and sweat shirts, and long coats. As a result, I had a new mantra in my life. When I lose weight, I will.....! When I lose the baby fat, when I go on a diet, if only I could fit into that dress, this year I am going to lose weight. Let me tell you, I became my own worst nightmare. The negative mindset was causing me to gain even more weight. Not only had I closed the door on my future by hiding behind my insecurities but I had throw away the key thinking I was not worthy to have or do anything because I was embarrassment to my family.

I started hiding behind these doors in high school. Guess what friends, I was not heavy in high school. I just was not small like my sisters. My body type was different. My grandmother is 5' 2" and so are two of my sisters. At the time I didn’t know I was different. I just believed all the lies that were lovingly shoved down my throat. As a result, I started to overeat: Stuffing my feelings of inadequacy by feeding my face. I was finding comfort anyway I could. Then I would feel so bad. It was a vicious cycle. Then new years would roll around and I would find myself making that perpetual resolution to get THIN again!

Twenty years ago, I started my journey of peace! The first step was getting the audible negative voices away from me. I divorced him. I knew that I was going to die if I allowed myself to be brainwashed by him one more day. I also distanced myself from the rest of the family. That way I only heard the negative voices on the phone when I called my granny or my mother. “Honey are you still big?” was a common question.

The change for me was immediate. No I didn’t start to lose weight. I quit beating myself up with diets and torture. The negative self-talk was going away and I was replacing it with loving gestures; bubble baths, meditation, walks in the woods, fishing, and kind words in my head. Whenever I would mentally hear those ugly words, I would replace them. The hardest part to all of this is recognizing that you say them to yourself in the first place. Once that light bulb goes off, you begin to heal.

Every thing that has happened to me in my life has made me the person that I am. I am thankful for every single bad thing that has every happened to me. Those things make me stronger and more able to share with you. In my imperfection I can help you become who you are supposed to be. It was only after I personally started to Finally Love Myself (FLY) that I found my voice.

Don’t ever forget that the message is not about me, it is about you and helping you to FLY! If I can teach you this one lesson, your home will come together. It is an all inclusive process. The baby steps, shining your sink, getting dressed to shoes, fixing your hair and face, building your routines are all part of FLYing, as well as getting rid of the clutter from your life. Don’t get caught in the revolving door of I’ll do this when. We all have to start someplace. Let go of the negative attitudes and self-defeating behavior and be nice to you for a change.

bill, Mr. Armour called for the clerk to have him vouch for its accuracy. Finding that the billing was correct he assured the young man it would be paid. However, as the clerk was leaving Mr. Armour said, “I wish to say to you that I have processed a great many hogs in my time, but this is the first time I have ever dressed one.”

I have noted that those guilty of playing accounting games constantly assert they have not broken any laws or changed the rules, but rather have only abided by that which is currently right and legal. Nonsense! As Billy Sunday said in my time, “When a man starts arguing that stealing is not a sin, don’t argue with him... search him.”

I was watching a movie on your television the other day and the actor gave an impassioned speech underlining the importance of greed. “Greed,” he said, “is good. Greed is right. Greed works. Greed clarifies. Greed will save the United States.” Really? The rich getting richer while the poor get poorer will save our country? A CEO with millions in the bank and thousands of employees in the poor house? Salvation from stinginess? Come on.

Sincerely,
Theodore Roosevelt

Q: What is Oral Cancer?

A: This potentially deadly disease affects more than 30,000 Americans and claims more than 9,000 lives each year. That is more deaths than skin cancer? Where, why and how does a person get oral cancer?

Oral cancer occurs most often in people who smoke or use chewing tobacco. Also, consumers of large amounts of alcohol are more susceptible. However, people with many different backgrounds and life-styles are potentially a victim of this disease.

Areas of the mouth most affected are the tongue, cheek and floor of the mouth, but oral lesions can occur anywhere in the mouth.

The key is early detection. When diagnosed in later stages, radical facial surgeries with disfiguring results are very common. Only half of such patients survive more than five years.

Your dentist, with routine exams, can perform Oral Cancer Screening and diagnose early stages of oral cancer. A great new diagnostic system that helps in early detection is called Oral CDx.

It uses a virtually painless brush biopsy and takes only minutes to complete. Early detection and treatment are the keys for reducing the incidence of oral cancer. Get checked today!
